ADMINISTRATION

A CENTENNIAL MESSAGE FROM THE CHANCELLOR—Now is the time for us. The University of Mississippi is in its 100th year. What people think of the University, what it actually is, what it is to be are man-made. For a hundred years the University has represented the hopes, the ambitions, the faith, the striving of the people of a great state that through education would come better leaders and through better leadership would come better conditions of living—both spiritual and material.

Throughout the past century as each succeeding fall term began, parents have bid goodbye to their sons and daughters who were to enroll at the University. These young men and women were breaking home ties for the first time. Each with a song in his heart and a spirit of adventure in his veins felt the urge to conquer new worlds. He looked to the University to furnish him his "know-how."

Throughout the past century, as each succeeding fall term began, former students returned to continue work of the year before, to renew friendships, and to think more seriously upon plans for the days and years following graduation. As graduation approached, some had found a life partner. After graduation and a few months of saving, another wedding was solemnized and another Ole Miss family was added to the ever increasing roster.

The University is so interwoven with the life of the people of Mississippi that nothing can happen to one that does not affect the other. In every community, in every neighborhood, in every part of Mississippi are substantial homes and families of character that represent the work of the University and demonstrate its influence. In public office, in learned professions, in channels of business many leaders received their education, their inspiration, their conception of vocational ethics at the University.

Ole Miss is more than campus, buildings, and the stadium. Primarily, it is a spirit—a spirit that it toook a hundred years to build, a robust and courageous spirit, yet genteel and self-controlled; a spirit that demands the free flow of ideas, freedom of expression, and the acceptance of full responsibility for beliefs honestly held; a spirit of unity among all Ole Miss men and women that continues as long as life itself.

This spirit is perhaps the most valuable asset the University has. You and I have inherited this spirit built by generations now gone. Let us breathe deeply of it that we may be true to the finest traditions of democracy and Christianity. Now is the time for us by our thoughts and our deeds to strengthen and build the Ole Miss spirit so that we may be true to those who have preceded us and may make our full contribution to the generations to follow.

Now is the time for us.

DEAN V. A. COULTER

THE Colleges of Liberal Arts is the oldest school on the University of Mississippi campus, being the only one contained in the original makeup of the University at the time of its opening in 1848.

The BA School today offers to the student wishing to obtain his degree in Liberal Arts some leeway in the choice of his subjects, which, however, must fit into the definite program set down by the University. This prescribed course which the Liberal Arts student follows today may be traced to the subjects in which instruction was to be available to the first students at the University late in 1848. These subjects which made up the Academic Department were as follows: Mental and Moral philosophy, Logic, Belles-Lettres, Political Economy and International Law, which were taught by the President of the University; Mathematics, Astronomy, Chemistry, Botany, Geology, Mineralogy, Natural Philosophy, Latin, Greek, Hebrew, French, professors, all four of whom were evidently very versatile gentlemen.

In the history of the University the subjects contained in the first department mentioned above, taught by the President have been variously assigned. Some have been expanded to form the Departments of Philosophy and Economics, while the very general Belles-Lettres is the progenitor of the Departments which have thru various stages have emerged as Departments of English and History as we know them today. The remaining original subjects with some consolidation and, for the most part, a great deal of specialization, may be recognized as the principle components of these present respective departments.

As we compare the courses to be followed for the attainments of degrees in the School of Liberal Arts as are to be found in the latest school catalogue; with the requirements in the early years of the school, we note some important changes. From 1848 to 1870 the "close curriculm" was in use. By this plan the student could not deviate at all from one path of study leading to a BA Degree or another leading to a Bachelor of Laws Degree. In 1870 this method was changed and a plan giving a larger scope was introduced. Since that time the school has tried to enlarge its field of study to interest students with varying interests and ambitions, but has not ceased to establish a sharp distinction between the basic intentions of the lower division and the upper division. In the lower division an effort is made to assure a mental discipline thru a sufficient range of courses that are thought to exercise the mind in thinking and in the construction of organized thought. The work of the upper division is more advanced in nature and more specialized. The student, besides his specialized study in the field of his chosen major, has that chance to satisfy his cultural tastes in whatever direction he might wish.

The academic Department of the University, founded with the school under President George Frederick Holmes, is now as the College of Liberal Arts under the direction of Dean Victor Aldine Coulter.

THE LAW BUILDING

Law

SINCE 1854

The School of Law, then the Department of Law, was established by legislative enactment in 1854. The first incumbent of the newly formed "Chair of Law and Governmental Science" was William F. Sterns. Although the Law Department was not founded til this date, there had been provisions in the original plan of the University for a course in Governmental Science and Law.

The defined course of study for the Bachelor of Laws Degree was composed of two sessions of ten months each. The Socratic method of instruction was adopted.

In 1857 by enactment of the legislature the diploma conferring the Degree of Bachelor of Laws was made sufficient proof of knowledge of the law to obtain for the holder a license to practice in the courts of Mississippi.

The Department of Law was, of course, closed in 1861. When it reopened in 1867 it was headed L. Q. C. Lamar, who held that post until 1870.

The historical catalogue published in 1909 states concerning the Law Department "during the present administration the course of study has been entended." Two full sessions of nine months each are now required for graduation. Plans are on foot for material inmprovements." Material improvements have been made, and a program of study in the Law School today is designed to occupy the student six full semesters.

The plan of study in this school is so aranged as to afford the student a fairly free choice of subjects during his second and third years. The first year courses, however, are prescribed. The result is a modified elective system that insures a thorough training in the basic courses and at the same time is sufficiently flexible to encourage individual interest and intiative.

The Law School, with the Mississippi State Bar, publishes four times a year the Mississippi Law Journal.

The Nation's two leading legal fraternities have chapters here, These Delta Phi and Phi Alpha Delta.

Robert J. Farley is the present Dean of the School of Law.

THE LIBRARY IN EARLY SPRING

Engineering

SINCE 1900

DEAN LEE H. JOHNSON, JR.

Though the school of Engineering was not organized as such until 1900, courses in engineering were offered by the University at the time of the reopening of the school immediately following the close of the war between the States.

A chair of Physics, Astronomy and Civil Engineering was organized in 1865. In 1867 the first two were combined, leaving Civil Engineering as a separate department, or school, of the Academic Department; it's name being changed to applied mathematics. From that time until the board of Trustees authorized the introduction of Engineering courses into the school curriculm, and the chair of electricity and electrical engineering was established, there was little interest taken at all in Engineering.

This lack of interest on the part of the student in the years following the war is easily understood. He found it hard to accept the new educational ideas, and at that date Civil Engineering was not considered a profession in the South. If the students did not take an active concern in Engineering during these years, it was not because of any defficiency in the necessary equipment, in the quality of instruction or in the variety of subjects. For even during these poverty stricken years the courses offered measured well up to the standards of that time.

After the school of engineering was begun in 1900, there followed various departmental changes which were necessary to consolidate the department. In 1903 the Legislature made considerable appropriations to the Engineering School; and as a result of consquent large additions to the equipment and of introduction of new courses, the enrollment increased at once.

In 1909 there were four departments in the school of Engineering. They were; Civil Engineering, Electrical Engineering, Municipal and Sanitary Engineering and Geology. At the present time the following under graduate Engineering degrees are offered; B.S., in Civil Engineering, B.S. in Chemical Engineering, B.S. in Engineering Administration and B.S. in Geological Engineering.

The school of Engineering today offers an intergrated program of four, five, and six year curricula, parts of which are tied in with the departments of Chemistry, The School of Commerce and Business Administration, and with the department of Geology.

The Dean of the School of Engineering is Lee H. Johnson, Jr.

PEABODY BUILDING

Education

SINCE 1903

This school was organized in 1903. However before that time there had been a Chair of Pedagogy established in 1893. The annual catalogue shows progress and a growth in this department which led to the creation of the school itself. The first Dean of the School of Education was J. G. Deupree.

In 1906 the Department of Education was temporarly abolished because of a deficiency of funds. This move met with so much opposition that the school reestablished the department after an inactive period of four weeks.

The Chancellor of the University in 1908 asked the Dean to undertake the extensive task of developing the High School system of the State in connection with and with the cooperation of the General Education Board. This work being begun the Dean added to his title of Professor of Physchology that of Professor of secondary Education. The plan launched met with great success, thanks to the spirit of cooperation with which it was received by the many to whom its provisions would apply. From the time the Chancellor suggested this functioning of the Education School down to the present, it has developed with the Public School system of Mississippi and expanded so best to serve and improve this system.

One not to be overlooked branch of the Education School is the department of Health and Physical Education, the functions of which are of vital importance to the University as a whole.

In accordance with the desire of the School of Education to keep up to date in all matters pertaining to Education, the same department now boasts a well equipped Audio-Visual Educational laboratory. This division provides services to Public Schools and various organizations as well as to departments of the University.

In 1947 the Bureau of Educational Research was established. Its chief purpose is the analysis of educational problems of special interest to this state.

The School of Education is now headed by Dean Forrest W. Murphy.

DEAN F. W. MURPHY

THE HOSPITAL AND MEDICAL SCHOOL BUILDING

Medicine

DEAN D. S. PANKRATZ

The School of Medicine was founded by a special act of the Board of Trustees in June, 1903. This department had been anticipated though, as early as the school year 1870-71. At that time the Board of Trustees passed a resolution relative to establishing a medical department. This school, as proposed, would be based on the plan in use at the University of Virginia; and it would be organized as soon as there were sufficient funds for the undertaking. The undertaking proved evidently too ambitious, for after the founding of the "Department of Medicine and Surgery", which was heralded by the catalogue from 1870 till 1879, it was dropped in 1880.

The Medical School which was finally founded embraced only the first two years of the regular four year course. It met with much difficulty during the first years of its early existence; not only because of very inadequate facilities and quarters, but also because of opposition of physicians throughout the state to a medical school away from a large city. These difficulties were, however, overcome in a very few years.

In 1908 the Chancellor was approached by two gentlemen connected with the state charity hospital at Vicksburg. They came with regard to the establishment of the last two years of medicine at that hospital. The offer of the hospital was accepted and the whole four year course was carried out during 1910-1911. It was discontinued after that; and reverted to its previous two year form.

At the present time, the Medical School is still of only two years duration. However, legislation relative to the establishment of a four year medical college and a teaching hospital is scheduled to come before the state legislature during this session.

The School of Medicine in its present form offers the course of study headed generally as follows: Anatomy, Bacteriology, and Clinical Laboratory Diagnosis, Pharmacology, Pathology, Physiology, Physiological Chemistry and Clinical Medicine.

This school is now operating on an acclerated schedule permitting a student to finish his regular two years work in one and one-half years.

David S. Pankratz is the Dean of the School of Medicine.

THE PHARMACY BUILDING

Pharmacy

SINCE 1908

The School of Pharmacy was established at the University in July, 1908. For the first session, there was application for admission of fifteen students; a gratifying number considering the department had been only two months before school opened. The Historical Catalogue of 1909 notes that that department was well-equipped for doing excellent work. Its three laboratories were equipped with the necessary fixtures and conveniences for all general purposes. However, sufficient facilities were not available during the first few years of operation for as varied a field of study as the authorities had intended.

The Pharmacy Department began to experience its largest period of expansion with the erection of the Chemistry and Pharmacy Building in 1923. Prior to this time, the department had been operating in inadequate, overcrowded quarters, which made improvement and expansion practically impossible. With the acquisition of the new building, the Pharmacy School was able to increase the number of laboratories and install new and improved equipment.

The degree granted by the School of Pharmacy for the successful completion of the four years work is that of Bachelor of Science in Pharmacy. This school is now a member of the American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy and is accredited by the American Council on Pharmaceutical Education.

The present Dean of the School of Pharmacy is Elmer Lionel Hammond.

DEAN ELMER L. HAMMOND

THE LYCEUM BUILDING

Business

DEAN H. B. BROWN, JR.

The BSC School was the next to the last professional school founded on this campus, in 1917. Its origin may be traced to courses in bookkeeping taught at the university beginning with the session of 1871-72. This division did not at that time play a significent role in the university curriculm but was as the catalogue for that session noted considered a "highly important branch of knowledge" in which "a course of instruction (was) given in all the various departments of commerical science".

This department did not really come into its own until it was established as a separate school with its purpose the turning out of broadly trained men who would be capable of meeting the increasing demands of the more modern business world. As the business world has become more involved and the necessity of business education has become more evident, so has the school broadened its field of study. In the beginning a general course only was offered in banking, transportation, and merchandising; while not attempting to differentiate in these separate subjects. The group of courses also included the subjects of political science, economics, shorthand and typing, accounting, and filing. These subjects were covered in sixteen courses. Today over six times as many courses are offered in the business school.

After the preliminary degree has been obtained in this department following four years work, the degree of Master of Business Administration may be had with an additional year of study.

The school is accredited with the American Association of Collegiate Schools of Business and the National Conference of State University Schools of Business; being a full member of each.

The School of Commerce and Business Administration has, since its founding, experienced the largest growth of any university department. This school's enrollment today is second only to that of the College of Liberal Arts.

Dean Horace B. Brown, Jr., is in charge of this school.

THE SCIENCE BUILDING AND THE CONFEDERATE MEMORIAL

Graduate

SINCE 1927

Honorary M.A. Degrees were conferred on distinguished graduates from 1848 until 1870; and courses of graduate level were first offered in 1870. The Graduate School was established in 1927.

In the reorganization plan of 1870, there were six courses of study from which the student could choose. Included in these were two that led to post graduate degrees, one the degree of Master of Arts and the other that of Doctor of Philosophy. With the larger variety of studies offered by this reshuffling plan of 1870, more students were attracted to the university and consequently there were more who were desirous of taking post graduate courses.

A definite program of graduate study with minimum residence requirements of one academic year was set up in 1890. Fellowships in this department began to be awarded at this time; and since 1909 the number that has received the Masters Degree has increased out of all proportions to the number in the thirty nine years before. Before the official establishment of the school in 1927 graduate work was done under the direction of the general faculty acting thru a graduate committee, but the Board of Trustees elected a Dean charged with the responsibility for this work.

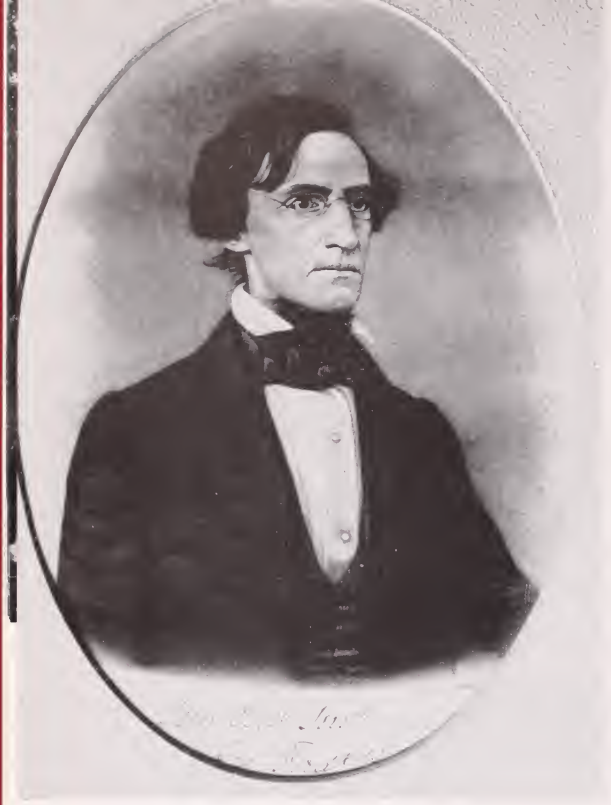

While the student doing graduate level work from 1870 for a considerable period was hindered by a field study rather limited in scope, the student of today has an almost unlimited field of studies from which to choose. The Graduate School confers the degrees of Master of Arts, Master of Science and Master of Business Administration.

The center of graduate studies is the Alexander L. Bondurant Graduate Building which was constructed soon after the school was officially established.

The Graduate School is headed by Dean Dudley R. Hutcherson.

GEORGE FREDERICK HOLMES
The first president of Ole Miss

The Lyceum Building in 1860

1848

UNVERSITY OF MISSISSIPPI

It was on a bright, brisk, Monday morning in November, in the year 1848, that the University of Mississippi, now affectionately known as Ole Miss came into existence. Standing on the steps of the Lyceum Building a Mr. Thompson delivered an address on behalf of the Board of Trustees followed by President George Frederick Holmes who spoke for the faculty. Thereupon the University was declared officially open and ready to receive students.

The first session found some eighty Southern "gentlemen" enrolled. There has probably never been in the history of a University such an assemblage of "students". None of them had any back ground whatsoever for college work and being the scions of the southern heiarchy they were naturally not inclined towards discipline. "No more crude and disorderly set of young men ever assembled in any college." These were the words of the Reverend John N. Wadell who later became Chancellor. They came to the University attended by their slaves and carrying their hunting dogs and guns. Not a man on the campus went about without his pistol or at least a dirk and there is actually a case of an affair of honor the cause of which was the love of a young maiden of the village of Oxford. Pistols, by the way, had to be checked with the Dean of Men before going to class.

The sale of intoxicating beverages within five miles of the university was naturally prohibited by law, and five miles being five miles in those days of the horse and buggy instead of five minutes was naturally tough on the boys. But these fellows were no more daunted from having a sociable drink before breakfast than those that followed them. The long wagon trains bearing hay or cotton through the village of Oxford were more often than not carrying contraband liquor hidden under their innocent looking loads.

Such activities were naturally very much frowned on by the faculty and every effort was made to curb this debauchry, but the straw that broke the camels back was laid on when one of these eager scholars was found keeping a "lewd" woman in his room. He was severely reprimanded and dismissed from the school.

President Holmes fought the good fight, always optimistic, remembering that youth must have its fling; but, in the spring of 1849, a little over a year from the time he came into office, he resigned; and left the campus "to regain his health".

Following the departure of Mr. Holmes, the presidency of the college was taken over by Dr. Augustus B. Longstreet of Georgia. He was considered somewhat of a character but was liked by all the boys. The author of "Georgia Scenes", a series of humorous sketches depicting early 19th century life in Georgia, he became the father of the modern American comic strip.

It was under the benevolent despotism of Judge Longstreet that discipline of a sort was inforced on the campus and a great measure of scholastic progress gained.

Century of Ole Miss

The courses pursued by these first Ole Miss students are not found too prevalent today. Languages, especially Latin and Greek, were considered paramount studies. Mental and moral sciences, rhetoric, logic, political economy, international law, and evidences of Christianity were also important subjects.

Students of 1948 would find it impossible to enter the University in 1848. This, because of the extremely difficult written examinations. Said examinations insisted on, among other things, a knowledge of the five books of Caesar and the six books of the Aeneid of Virgil.

In July of 1856, President Longstreet resigned under protest from the Board of Trustees. His influence continued to be greatly felt, however, as his son-in-law, L. Q. C. Lamar, the noblest Mississippian of them all, became a professor, in turn, Lamar's son-in-law, Edward Mayes became a Chancellor.

The reign of Longstreet was followed by that of Frederick A. P. Barnard, who was to become one of the greatest figures in American education and also a great name in science.

A facile talker, President Barnard addressed a meeting of the state legislature and managed to secure funds that were badly needed for new buildings and for larger and better equipment for the library and science department. Shortly afterward, the University of Mississippi took its honored place as one of the best equipped universities in America. It was a remarkable fact, considering that the university had been in existence only 13 years. It was through Barnard's efforts that the largest telescope in the world, at that time, was ordered for the school. The war came and it went to Northwestern University, where many history making observations were made, and it is still in use today.

Just as the war took our telescope, it took our greatest Chancellor (the title of president had been changed to chancellor). In 1861, the University was closed and Chancellor Barnard returned to his home in the north. But, even there, he was still concerned for the welfare of his beloved Ole Miss. It was through his influence that General Grant did not burn or destroy any of the property of the University.

Though not a part of the history of our university, we of Ole Miss always point with pride to the record of F. E. P. Barnard after leaving the campus. In 1864, he was chosen president of Columbia College, N. Y. Upon arriving there, he found a "second or third rate" college. When he left, it was one of the outstanding educational institutions in America. The women's division is named for him.

The drums rolled arcoss the eleven southern states. From every town, village, and hamlet the horses dashed out carrying their riders for an appointment with history. Across the hot hinterland the Stars and Bars rode in glory. A jubilant populace raised their voices singing a new song—a song that would send thrills in to the hearts of men long after those who first sang it were gone. A piercing yell broke everywhere the stillness of the evening air and Ole Miss was ready for it's date with destiny.

The opening of hostilities naturally affected the academic life of the campus for the worst. Many of the students left the campus immediately to join the Confederate army. On the campus itself a company was formed. William B. Lowry was elected commander. It was just an ordinary college company to the eye. There were many such formed throughout the country on both sides, but the University Greys were to make a name for themselves that would stand with the immortals who wore the grey. Forming Company A of the Eleventh Mississippi Davis Brigade. they followed Pickett in his last charge against Missionary Ridge. As they approached the summit under the hail of withering fire that would have forced less dauntless hearts to withdraw, General Pickett was struck down; but the sons of Ole Miss went on, reaching the furtherest point of penetration. However no mortal could have taken the ridge that day, so the University Greys were forced to give way for lack of support. It was truly the high water mark of the South, and it was only just that the gallant men of the University of Mississippi should follow them in their tradition today should be known throughout a nation as the Rebels.

When the blood had dried on Missionary Ridge and the long years of fighting against insurmountable odds had drawn to a close, the roll of Company A Eleventh Mississippi Davis Brigade was taken. Of the 136 that enlisted on the morning of February 28, 1861, only 24 could be accounted for. No school company in all the Southland or in the country of the enemy gave so much precious blood or esteemed a cause so highly as these "crude and disorderly set" of young men of our University Greys. Ole Miss, the South, the Nation has good cause to honor their name. They made of a lost cause, a defeat, a thing of glory that remains for all time an inspiration to those who follow.

Men did not have to go far off to find the war. The war came to them in all its horror of invading armies, pillage, and burning. The war came to Ole Miss.

The long line of Grey slowly gave way, falling back to Cornith. It had been a heavy price paid at Shiloh and there was great need for a base hospital close enough to the front to facilitate easy carriage and yet, where in this wilderness was such housing for the hundreds of suffering men. The answer was the Lyceum Building of the Ole Miss campus. This imposing hall dedicated to the peace and progress of all mankind was called on to do a job of mercy and it served well and with honor. Some 1,500 sick and wounded Johnny Rebs were cared for in the rooms where we now attend class, unmindful of the fact that many came to those rooms with a more graver purpose—some never to walk out again. For a short distance from the campus in unmarked graves lie those who breathed their last under the sound of the plantation bell.

That Ole Miss escaped the wanton destruction committed upon many of the South's great seats of learning was through our two great friends in the north, Chancellor Barnard and Professor Boynton. Through their intersection Grant spared the University the fate of those who stood in the path of Sherman.

The war came to an end. The men came home to settle down to the serious task of making their lives from nothing. The South had lost the war. Though the spirit of the south was still unconquered. There were those men who would seek to destroy even that. Men came back to shambles that had once been homes. They had left wealthy; they returned impoverished. They returned to Ole Miss. They came with nothing; they hoped to take away all. How different were these men than when they had first come to the campus before four long years of war.

The University fought to keep its independence, but the state legislature, now carpetbagged and scalleywagged, made attempts to change the school to suit their political views. The Board of Trustees was changed constantly. Chancellor Wadell, Stewart and Mayes, in that order, resigned because of that interference. As Wadell expressed it, "The name University applied to our institution is unquestionably a misnomer under present circumstances."

But the tyrants of the North and their cringing allies in the South had not reckoned with the spirit that had never been conquered—a spirit that burned on Scotland's hills—a spirit that again would light up in the burninig flames in the fiery crosses raised to heaven. The sound of men riding through the night and pale figures, ghosts of departed heroes, rode on errands of vengance, lighted by the fires of unmericiful justice. Ole Miss had her clansmen and they rode with all the courage that had made for them a name in the war they had thought was over.

The fires had not burned in vain, and finally the South emerged into the light of hope and Ole Miss knew her sons would live again.

Normalcy came to Ole Miss as it came to the entire South. It was in 1872 that Chancellor Fulton assumed the leadership of the University. His reign was free from the political interference of the reconstruction, and this academic freedom resulted in Ole Miss coming once again into its own as it had never before in the days of F. A. P. Barnard. A summer school was inaugurated. An additional township was secured for the University. A system of high school affiliation was introduced. The enlargement of schools to include engineering, education, and medicine made Ole Miss now an official University. It was inevitable that this peace should be broken; as inevitable as Adam's desire to break the spell of Paradise. It was in June of 1882 that the Board of Trustees decided that women "should be admitted to the University on the same basis as men."

In the beginning there were no dormitories for the girls and they were required to stay in the homes of the faculty. This proved to be unpopular and no great percentage of women enrolled in the University until 1903 when adequate housing facilities were made available. Needless to say, however, the admittance of girls into Ole Miss had a remarkable effect on the increased enrollment of young men. A greater consequence was the softening the young ladies added to the life of the campus. It wasn't long before the law prohibited "excessive profanity" in the classrooms could be safely repealed.

The end of Fulton's reign at Ole Miss saw the rise of an "insidious kind of legislative and executive interference" through the Board of Trustees. From 1916 to 1932 the University suffered in the throes of political change. In 1930 the Chancellor and thirty members of the faculty were actually dismissed. Ole Miss was suspended from the accredited list but some years later returned to the fold. However, one must realize that Ole Miss was never an ivory tower. Ole Miss was and is Mississippi and it is only just that so goes Mississippi, so goes Ole Miss.

To a part of Mississippi, and as such a part of America, Ole Miss was ready in 1918. We have gone into great lengths to show the spirit of the Rebels in the great War between the States. Needless to say that same spirit terrified the Hun. Victory was won; but at such a cost.

It was on a bright June day in 1919 that a grey somber ceremony took place on a campus devoid of many of its favorite sons. In a simple gesture a memorial was unveiled which was to bear forever the names of the war dead of Ole Miss.

Ole Miss survived the bathtub gin era (although some of its sons did not) and staggered into the depression-ridden thirties. During this time enrollment was low. It towards 1940 when prosperity and students were returning to Ole Miss, that the University seemed destined to meet its greatest height. Again we were halted. This time by the second major conflict in thirty years. As always, the Rebels lead the fighting ranks of the United States and of the world. Not since the Civil War had the soldiers of Ole Miss played such a major roll. The Army and Navy moved in immediately. Ole Miss herself trained and turned out experts in all fields of military operation. This year will see three new dormitories dedicated to three sons of Ole Miss who didn't return: Sam, Gerard, and Baxter. These new buildings symbolize a new and greater Ole Miss that is taking its place in this new day as one of America's oldest and most honored universities.

Student government at Ole Miss is vested in the Executive Council. This autonomy is conducted through the officers of the Associated Student Body and a representative from each school and from each major organization. Our government is guided under a Constitution adopted by the Associated Student Body during the school year of 1936-1937.

Since 1897 the Ole Miss has appeared on the campus fifty times to faithfully record the students and their life at the University of Mississippi . . . May their first volume of a new half century prove a worthy addition to a distinguished line.

TOM HAIRSTON, Editor

All things considered, it was a good year. True, we cut classes, drank much coffee, lost friends and sleep, but it was fun. If this book many years from now reminds you of people you knew and things you did 'way back in 1948, then we will consider our job well done.

The editorial side was presided over by Tom Hairston as Editor. He was assisted by Buddy Shaw, who, along with Hugh Schneider, took the informal snapshots. Credits go to the following people for their work on this book. Fred Lotterhos and Bob Sublette, feature writing; Jack Napier and Carole Hawkins, fraternities and sororities; Roger Rosenfield, military; Ralph Marble, and Pat Reilly, class sections; Bobby Peets, cartoons; and Bitsy Hunter, athletics.

Those people who helped immeasurably on many small but very important jobs were Carolyn Parker, Bee Johnson, Martha Anne Rowan, Martha Wrenn, Jo James, Pat Land, Ann Berdon, Eleanor Allen, Joan Humphreys, and Jim Parkin.

Lewis Nobles took care of the finances. Serving as assistant business manager was Ed Birchett. The rest of the small but powerful business force consisted of Jean Wheeler, Frank Kennedy, Earnest Graves, James Holloway, Buddy Jackson, Jim Anderson, Lowrey Dye, Bobby Hunter, Helen Henry, Jean Mathis, and Joy Ford.

We are indebted to the following people. To the Commercial Appeal of Memphis and Billy Gates for many of our athletic pictures; to the Physics Department, Mr. Cofield, and Louis Silver for the old pictures used in our history section; and to The Benson Printing Company and the Shreveport Engraving Company for their parts played in the preparation of this volume.

MISSISSIPPIAN

The Mississippian today's campus news journal, finds its origin in two early publications of diversified purpose and composition. One of these was "The University of Mississippi Magazine", which was a literary monthly published by representatives of the Hermaen and Phi Sigma Literary Societies. The other was the "Varsity Voice". This was a weekly paper published under the auspices of the YMCA and the Athletic Association; giving the campus news and discussing matters of interest to students and alumni. "The Missisippian", then, with the same avowed purpose, stems primarily from the "Varsity Voice." The two original publications were merged in 1911 to form "The Mississippian."

This weekly publication adheres to the intent of its antecedent, "Varsity Voice" in giving campus news and discussing matters of interest to students and alumni. The paper contains, in addition to general local news coverage and the editorial section, a sports section, a society page, and various feature columns.

News Reporters and Feature Writers, Frank Barber, Lib Blanchard, Thomas Cave, Gloria Dandridge, Margaret Dooley, Pat Fayard, Irene Garrett, Beverly Jeanne Glenn, Flowers Hamrick, Jay Hedgepeth, Peggy Laughter, Mary Forrest McCall, George Patterson, Richard Russum, Idanelle Stone, Bobbie Taylor.

The Business Staff of the "Mississippian" is made up of the Business Manager, Bill Tyler; Ass't Business Manager, J. R. Copeland; Advertising Manager, Bill McCord; Local Circulation Manager, Sam Ray; Foreign Circulation Manager, Wayne Fairchild; Circulation Assistants, Bobby Dailey, Martha Sue Draper, Barbara Eighmey, Georgia Nelle Hale, Eaton Lang.

The Moot Court Board, founded in February, 1946, acting under the direction of the faculty, provides the administrative means for the appellate moot court trials which give reality to the Supreme Moot Court of the State of Mississippi. The purposes of the appellate moot court trials are to familiarize law students with the preparation of appellate briefs; to give law students the opportunity to apply the law to a given set of facts; and to simulate, as closely as possible, the procedure of appealing a case to the Supreme Court of the State and the manner of arguing a case before that Court. Membership on the board is determined by the faculty and is one of the outstanding honors conferred on law students.

"Hedda Gabler"

The University Players, under the direction of Dr. Charles M. Getchell, presented four plays this year; Noel Coward's amusing, "Blith Spirit"; Hendrik Ibsen's classic, "Hedda Gabler"; Tennessee William's unusual, "Glass Menagerie"; and the fast-moving comedy, "My Sister Eileen."

Make-up is important—obviously

COLONIAL JAMES O. WADE

The first ROTC students since the war to earn reserve Army and Air Force commissions will be graduated this spring, putting the unit back on its old full four year basis. Graduates will be tendered commissions in the Infantry, and in Air Force Administration and Supply.

The fourth year students spent six weeks at Fort Benning, Ga., and Keesler Field, Biloxi, and came back to school last fall with a practical military background to supplement their classroom work. Since the great majority of them were war veterans, however, the summer course was valuable chiefly as a refresher.

Ole Miss' unit has achieved a high rating in efficiency in the two years of post-war reorganization. They have received an "excellent" rating from War Department inspection teams, the highest obtainable. Last year's rifle team finished second in the Southeastern Area rifle matches, and won 18 straight dual matches. The team this year is equally successful, and has fired in the Hearst Trophy Matches.

In the field of social events, the department has concentrated on the annual Military Ball, which was held for the second time since the war, on March 19. There were two leadouts, one for the cadet battalion, and the other for the senior cadet officers.

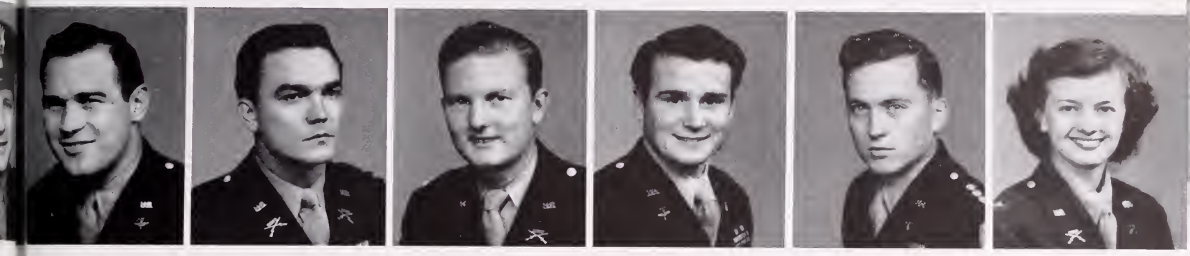

Top Row: T/Sgt. Musick, Sgt. Eppihimer. Middle Row: M/Sgt. Avera, M/Sgt Allen, M/Sgt. Newberry. Bottom Row: Colonel Wade, Major Wyand.

ROTC UNIT

Reactivation of "B" Company, 8th Regiment Scabbard and Blade, honorary military fraternity, was effected March 4, with outstanding senior students being tapped. Logan Phillips is captain, Bill Davis first lieutenant, Lloyd Bridgers second lieutenant, and Jack Napier first sergeant of the fraternity.

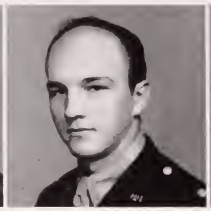

Cadet battalion officers this year included: Hunter Gates and Roy Watson, lieutenant colonels; Logan Phillips and Lloyd Bridgers, majors; and Jack Napier and Bill Davis, captains. Company commanders were Moses Attaya, Jack Reese, Charlie Wright, Cecil Dickerson, Jim Stribling and Billy Walton. George Smith and Leslie Tubb were band commanders.

Colonel James O. Wade, PMS&T headed the unit, seconded by Major Carl E. Taylor, professor of air science, and Major Preston W. Wyand, commandant of cadets. Others on the staff included: Majors Charles G. Stevens and John F. Holt, Captain Harold F. Coverdale, and Warrant Officer Joseph Powell. Enlisted instructors were: Master Sergeants Claud E. Allen, Douglas J. Avera, John B. Howell, Jr., and Cecil D. Heflin; First Sergeant Rolland M. Blackwood, Technical Sergeants Thomas M. Newberry and Dennie D. Musick; and Sergeant Stanley W. Eppihimer.

THE NAVAL ROTC UNIT

Prepares Regular Students for regular commissions in the United States Navy and Prepares Contract Students for commissions in the United States Naval Reserve.

This year has been an important one in the growth of the Naval Unit at Ole Miss. The new Naval Science Building was sufficiently near completion to make possible the holding of classes with the beginning of the first semester and plans were made to have a formal dedication ceremony as soon as possible. On the evening of 6 October 1947 a formal ball was held in honor of Fleet Admiral Halsey who next day made the principal dedication address. The building was named McCAIN HALL in honor of one of Mississippi's leading Naval heroes, Admiral John S. McCain, who had been a student at the University before entering the Naval Academy.

During the football season a color guard of NROTC students was formed to march with the band and at the Arkansas game the entire Unit marched on the field during pre-game ceremonies. Throughout the year the NROTC rifle team participated in numerous matches with Units of leading schools in all parts of the country.

The year marked the arrival of the first Regular Students selected by nationwide competitive examination under the Holloway Plan. Forty-six freshmen enrolled in that category this year and many of these came from other states.

The Women's Student Government Association is the governing body of the women students. The faculty has granted the Association control over all matters concerning the conduct of women students, except those matters which are directly under the control of University authorities and dormitory management. The Association holds membership in the National Association of Women Students, and also in the Mississippi Intercollegiate Women's Student Government Association. Authority is vested in a five-member Executive Council, which is elected by popular ballot, and a Legislative Council of seventeen members, composed of the five dormitory presidents and twelve student representatives appointed by the executive Council. Each woman student is a member of the Association and is required to be familiar with its rules and regulations.

Admiral Halsey arrives

before a crowd of 2,000

Ole Miss saw another page added to its history when, on October 7, 1947, the Observatory Building was renamed McCain Hall in honor of Admiral John S. McCain, Ole Miss Alumnus and World War II hero.

The building was completed in 1860 but was never used as an observatory because of the War Between the States. It was later remodeled and one section is now used as the Chancellor's home. Recently the remainder of the building was turned over to the Naval ROTC Unit.

Mrs. Katherine McCain, widow of Admiral McCain, made the dedication. She was followed by Admiral Halsey who made the principal address. Many high ranking officials were on hand to witness the event along with a crowd of approximately 2,000 people.

A reception and colorful Navy Ball climaxed the ceremonies.

DEDICATION OF McCAIN HALL

Mr. Tom Hairston, Editor
The Ole Miss
University of Mississippi
University, Mississippi

Dear Mr. Hairston:

You couldn't have given me a more difficult assignment in choosing between the five prettiest girls at Mississippi U. After gazing fixedly at the five photographs I went into a trance and came up with:

No. 1 Dorothy Lee Crum
No. 2 Claire Harrington
No. 3 Penny Hardaway
No. 4 Carolyn Prewitt
No. 5 Sabyne Blankenship

Best wishes,

Jon Whitcomb

The

MEMBERSHIP in the Hall of Fame is based on character, scholarship, constructive leadership, and contribution to the betterment of Ole Miss. The highest honor that can be awarded a University student, the Hall of Fame is sponsored by The Mississippian on a basis entirely free from campus politics.

A primary committee of twelve students and faculty members chose by secret ballot a nominating committee of twenty-five students, who in turn made their selections by secret ballot; names of this nominating committee remain unidentified.

Members of the 1948 Hall of Fame are Charles Conerly, Paul Newton, John Price, Ygondine Walker, Billy Walton, and George Worthen.

Pan-Hellenic Council is composed of the eight sorority presidents and two representatives from each group. The officers are chosen by rotation. The local Pan-Hellenic is a member of the National Pan-Hellenic Conference.

The primary purpose of the Pan-Hellenic Council is to promote harmony among the different sororities on the campus, to promote co-operation and unity among all Greek letter organizations, and to pass rules and regulations for the welfare of the system. To accomplish this effectively, Pan-Hellenic sets up the rushing rules, limiting the quota of pledges the various groups can pledge, regulating bidding system and cooperating generally with University authorities.

Established at Ole Miss in 1899

Abandon hope, all ye who enter here

Coffee Time

Just on the other side of the Dead House is a white structure, housing Chi-O, where Martha Anne Rowan wields the scepter. Bee Johnson assists with same, and they let Margaret Rust take notes of the proceedings. Betty Claire Lambert keeps track of the funds.

Rowan raises gold for the Y, is a Pi Kappa Pi, and Number One of Mortar Board and Panhellenic. Ygondine Walker is past Miss Ole Miss, WSGA head, and also claims Mortar Board. Janie Gale Steele is Home Ec. Club president, and Bee Johnson is vice-president of Canterbury Club—Also breaks speech records at meetings.

They claim more convertibles, swear Charlotte Gee has a great future as a theater stage-manager, and their pledges have been getting pinned like mad. Sabyne Blankenship is ROTC band sponsor, Ann Patterson looks sleepy, Ann Hopkins has a torchy voice. Emmogene Hardy leads yells, and Gloria Dandridge writes.

This one began in 1895, was the first sorority here four years later, Tau chapter, that is. Hues and tints are cardinal and straw, they use white carnations, and pay musical homage to a "Tawny Grey Owl."

Members not in Panel: Olamaie Curtiss, Charlotte Gee, and Genie Steele Hardy.

Pledges not in Panel: Jerry Garland.

Principals in the traditional Tri Delt Wedding

The restrained "hot-box"

Lydy Becker has taken over the Tri-Delt's presidency since the January departure of Ruthie Spivey. Mary Virginia Nichols alternates with the gavel, and Emmaline Hardy is recording secretary.

Lydy sits in on the Executive Council as ASB secretary, is also WSGA secretary. Penny Hardaway is a twice-chosen favorite and beauty. Donna Wiygul is another favorite and an ROTC sponsor, to boot. Bev Scott is vice-president of the Education school, and Elise Varner heads the YWCA.

A noted group of hill-billy singers is the Tri-Delta Trio, composed of Nichols, Hope Myres and Bev Scott. Betty Long, Puddie Eason, and Gayle Carlyle, the Conerly Boosters, won't even kill a roach in the kitchen. Sally Becker is the local sandwich girl—lots of parties and no food. Oh, and Ella White is a drum-majorette.

It was organized at a Thanksgiving dinner table in 1888, and Chi chapter took roots at Ole Miss in 1926. Their colors are blue, silver, and gold. Their song says "There's Meaning in the Colors." You figure it out. They worship pansies.

Members not in the Panel: Elizabeth Becker, Ann Duke, Betty Minor, Hope Myres, and Ruthie Spivey.

Pledges not in the Panel: Georgia Nell Hale and Jean Smith.

Santa Claus—feminine gender

I'll have mine with water, please

"God took the bloom from the magnolia," and the Phi Mu's claim they've got it. They live in a brick, gabled affair out of Shakespeare, and are headed by Mary Liddell. Claire Wells is second-in-command, blonde Maedelle Patton wields the pen, Martha Sue Draper handles the bank-book, and Ann Turley reports.

Liddell ended up "Miss Ole Miss" this year, and Beth Carley gained the glory title of Murder Bowl Queen at the annual law-med shambles. Lois Pegrim helped lead the troops in "Hoddy-Toddy," Kitty McClendon is a favorite, Jean Pemble dances like mad and loves it, "Lib" Blanchard writes "Janie Reb" frantically for the local scandal-sheet, and is in love with horses. Billie Jean Little twirls batons during football season. Claire Wells is an ROTC sponsor—looks good in uniform, too.

The sorority is ancient, dating back to '52 and Wesleyan of Georgia for its birth. Alpha Delta chapter came here in '26, after Greeks were legal again at Ole Miss. Rose and white are the colors, they prefer the Enchantress Carnation, and they have a "Sweetheart Song."

A Knee is Head of the KD's—Eleanor, that is, and Willie Frant is co-pilot. Margaret Walters is the scribe for the bunch, and Idanelle Stone holds the keys to the strong box.

Carolyn Prewitt is a fair-haired girl—new secretary of the ASB, secretary of Cwens, and one of the 1948 beauties. Jean Lott, a steadying influence, is first vice president of WSGA, and Betty Colquitt is an ROTC sponsor.

Charm Crum is the current sweetheart of ATO, and Annie Lee Gunn is model pledge. Julie Davis keeps tab on campus society for "The Mississippian", and is a favorite. Members mourn the graduation of Marjean "The Machine" Woodward, campus queen.

Kappa Delta was inaugurated in 1897, and spotted Alpha Mu chapter at Ole Miss in 1927. Their flower is the white rose, colors are green and white, and they hum "There is No Girl Like a KD Girl".

Emily Ann Bickerstaff is head of the Delta Zetas, with Ann Baine second on the officer list. Billie Johnson handles pen and ink, and Virginia Ann Tansil counts cash.

Miriam Marron is current PiKA Dream Girl; Julia Wallace is Lambda Sigma treasurer, Press Photog Clubber, and "Mississippian" journalist. "Jinx" Tansil is involved in the Y cabinet and Wesley Foundation. Dot Mooney is a Rebel bandswoman, in Panhellenic, and Cwens. Bickerstaff is a BSU mainstay, in Pix, and the University Chorus. Joyce McGuire and Tom Barnett are inseparable, Miriam Marron, Charlie Montgomery and red vehicle form a threesome. Dr. Bernadine Schmidt, the educator, is a recent acquisition.

Delta Zeta was launched at Miami of Ohio in 1907, planted Ole Miss chapter in '27. Color motif is red and green, the Killarney rose is the blossom, and their ditty is "The Dream Girl of Delta Zeta."

Kay Barr holds Zeta destines in her hands as president, aided by Gloria Moss. Paula Hammond takes care of the records, Barbara Miller counts the coin of the realm, and Lucille DeGravelles is historian for the group.

Barr is mixed up in W. A. A., Panhellenic and Pix. Hammond heads the girls' glee club, belongs to APHA, Beta Beta Beta, Biology and Archery Clubs. Patsy Hendon has been featured in the Mississippian as a girl of the night; Dot Watson drives that packing-case convertible, and pledge Mary Michaels is usually to be seen in the new grill. The first semester Moss kept a black beast the ZTA's claimed was a cat on a leash, a thing named "Critty."

ZTA was founded, in the South if you please, in '98. Gamma Delta chapter came to the Circle in 1939. Colors are steel gray and turquoise blue. They occasionally wear white violets and sing "Pride of our Heats."

But honey, you should see the house plans

Does Right always triumph?

Truly a "key" group, Kappa is the baby sorority on the campus, having established in 1946. Pat Reilly succeeded Pat Davidson at midyear when the latter changed her name to Covert. Jane Herring keeps minutes, and O. E. Clower corresponds. Ruthie Schreiber invaded the South to help Pat Land as counselor.

Betsy Ross was WSGA prexy, and BWOC on the distaff side of the campus, until she finished her Ole Miss time at mid-year. "Nacki" Thompson was picked WSGA vice-prexy in the spring. Nancy Wood, protege of the pigskinners, is a favorite.

Jan Hays is the fair creature with the gold-wire glasses, who broke a leg skiing. Andre Benoist commutes to Natchez for the Pilgrimage balls. Clower is partial to one fraternity and Anne Reilly is tied up with one-half of the Morse twins. They all have grades—high sisterhood scholastically—and talk about their new house, which is highly invisible.

Kappa was founded in 1870 at Monmouth—Delta Rho chapter planted here in '46—they croon "A Garden of Blue"—jewel is the sapphire—colors are blue and blue—light and dark, that is.

The University of Mississippi Inter-Fraternity Council holds the unique position of serving as an administrative body for the fifteen social Greek-letter fraternities on the campus. The existence of the Council is authorized by a constitution which was ratified by each member-fraternity. The Council is headed by a president, a vice-president, and a secretary-treasurer; the legislative portion of the Council is composed of two representatives from each member-fraternity. Although the functions of the inter-fraternity Council are becoming wider each year, it is not being accomplished through the voluntary assumption of activities by the Council itself. Rather, however, the demand has come from other organizations, recognizing the peculiar and favorable status of the Council. A review of all the activities of the organization would be too lengthy to enumerate here. The Council during the school year has adopted a young Belgian war orphan through a nationally recognized relief organization; the President's Ball during the March of Dimes drive was sponsored by the Council. The social highlight of the year was, of course, the annual banquet given for the football team at the close of the season. The Council entertained at this time many out of town guests, including notables throughout the South. The members of the Council are able to view their past record with satisfaction and are looking forward to a promising future of service to the student body.

Dekes at play and work

The Dekes know who their officers are, but they ain't tellin'. They have characters that can be mentioned, however. They point to Bonds who rates beaucoup keys. Made ODK, Hall of Fame, was "Y" President, Phi Eta Sigma, etc. Billy Gresham heads Stunt Night, instructs, and escorts Ann Hopkins. Stacy Adams is the silent Psychologist. Bob Adams, the cosmopolite Parisian, is a handy lad with shutter and lens. John Pearson's speciality is singing "Steamboat Bill," Vance Waggoner is eternally trying to color a meerschaum and Roy Watson is the militarist—cadet colonel of the Army ROTC.

Bill Ruble parties, Heidelberg stoops to go through the front door, Les Sumners fires on the rifle team, and Ralph Wilson owns an unsuccessful crew cut.

This clan got its start at Old Eli in 1844, planted Chi chapter here in 1850. Colors are crimson, old gold and azure, and their flower is the pansy, a rugged bloom. This chapter harmonizes on "The Chi Marching Song."

Resting between repairs.

Blame termites for this.

SS-s-h! Delta Psi you know. This collegiate mystery meets secretly in a secret place, secret officers conduct secret business secretly. About all that's known is that their dwelling is "St. Anthony Hall," they wear huge badges (in the mouth when not clothed.) Like their patron saint, Uncle Tony, they resist the feminine temptation—or try to. They, also, have tea-parties with Dekes.

Founded in 1847, they claim the fraternity is an antique, like a pottery whisky bottle. Phi chapter, one of nine, came to this campus in 1855. Colors are azure and gold. That's about all the spies found out, except that you can always count on them for a knocked-out dance.

Fireside chat

Bridging the gap between studies

Arnold Hammond promised a chapter of Phi Psi in Florida, so with tears of gratitude they made him president here. "Wild-Weekend" Branum is the number two boy, Tom Lindley gets every word in the records, and Torti tries to squeeze blood out of the turnips.

Outstanding face is that of Semski, hidden behind a mass of wiry foliage. MacCraken is noted for terpsichorean interpretations, and Addison for basketball court maneuverability. Only the brothers know where Branum was dubbed "Notorious". "Knots" Breland's legs only won third place in a beauty contest. Lindley should become a great orator from practice at meetings.

Bryan Martin is the boy with the talented fingers, they explain Billy Robinson as being a Phi Psi grandson. Members retch over Schaedle's cravats, Young is legally ambitious—or vice versa. Turnipseed finally entered the cruel world after eight college years.

Was founded in 1852, Mississippi Alpha established seven year later. Colors are hunter's green and cardinal red, the flower is the deep red jaque rose, and their nostalgic ditty is "Old Pale of Mine".

Proof that Sigma Chis can read

Affairs of the Sigs were directed by "Mu-Mu" Whitfield, until he resigned at mid-year. Now they listen to Buddy Jackson. "Dooney" Davis takes over when Jackson has a Wednesday date. "Woot" Eavenson puts the chit-chat in writing, and "Boggs" Gunn wanders around handing out bills.

Cole and McVey sit on the Exec. Council, Brett Jackson and Patrick are Rebel Band drum-majors, and Jack Marshall is Ole Miss scoring ace on the hardwood. Smith, Davis, and Napier are RO captains and Scabbard and Blade men. Napier's also Mississippian news editor. Lanning sits in with the Mississippians, Dooney Davis and McVey are ODK, and several of them sing in the Glee Club.

John Bethea talks too much, Patterson cartoons, Jimmy Gilbert plays a fine piano, Hammond's a snow-job artist, and Robinson is never without his pipe. Wunderlich is the perennial pledge, and Flowers Hammrick is a charter GTR.

Sigma Chi was dreamed up at Miami in 1855, Eta chapter got here just two years later. They use blue and old gold and wear white roses upon occasions. You know what the fraternity song is.

The boys in the back room.

The same old story.

Paint-streaked white lions—"Half the world"—Minerva on a diamond-shaped badge —"Violets"—by these shall ye know them, speaking of SAE, of couse. They put Whitehead in charge in a fit of absent-mindedness, with Ernest Martin to bolster him up. They allow Kirby Day to correspond, and Ed Courtwright tallies shekels.

Let's see—they've got Bill Moroney who puts out that pseudo-magazine, "The Rebel," and Lauch Magruder flings his body around the turf leading yells. Hancock never touches it, Simmons is a Glee Club officer, Mott manages "The Hi Y'Yall," and Day heads Phi Eta Sigma. Hedgepeth and Van Zant whitewash the sacred felines. Now it can be told—Ed Moore helps write En Toto.

Their clan was organized in 1856, for some reason or other came to Ole Miss in '66—same year as the carpet-baggers. SAE's festoon themselves with violets, sing a tune of the same name, and use purple and gold as colors.

A study in expressions

Even to techniques—the Brotherhood extends

Charlie Capps, possessor of a grin and a red collapsible, is Phi Delt prexy—has been since Morton was sent by Tate County voters to the legislature. No one has taken Capp's place as vice. Joel Varner keeps track of the minutes, and Lester Shipley levies the assessments.

Stribling heads the Cardinal Club, Morton TKA, Winter made the Legislature, Emmerich debates, Bowen is Rebel quarterback. Currie (Overton) worries over the Vet's Organization, and Bob Hilton gives "hup-two-three" to the land-locked swabbies.

They specialize in nicknames—witness: Lover, The Camel, Monk, Georgianna, T-Bone, Maje, Cracker and Uncle Will. Someway or other they made the high fraternity scholastic average. This year they are riotously celebrating the fraternity centennial.

Some Miami students started Phi Delt in 1848, and Mississippi Alpha was set up in 1877. Colors are azure and argent, which is another way of saying blue and silver. Flower is the white carnation, and they sing "Phi Delta Theta for Aye (pronounced I)".

Conversation

Har-mo-ney

Tom Griffith is el presidente of Beta Theta Pi, Billie Carroll takes over when he's gone, and Albert Jaeger records what's said. Edwin Geisler holds gold, and Brison Mann keeps order.

The Betas seem to specialize in shysters, having a distinguished representation over in the "salt mines." Ernie Brown and Jimmie Dale won the law school moot court competition and Phi Alpha Delta award in a unanimous decision from the State Supreme court. Dub Coleman is chairman of the Moot Court Board, and Ray Burgess is chairman of the Teams and Courts Committee. And that ain't tennis.

In addition, they boast the only Ole Miss student in the state Senate—Decatur Butler, senator from Franklin-Amite Counties. Lowell Grisham, representative from Tishomingo county, is the youngest state legislator. Jim McGehee is President of the International Relations Club. Athletes are Jack Mann and Brison Mann of the cage squad, and Sonny Shelby, pigskinner and Golden Gloves welter champ.

Beta was founded in 1839, so they say, Beta Beta chapter got here 40 years later, when they immediately began singing "My Beta Girl." Colors are pink and blue, the flower is the pink rose.

Dancing at the Mansion.

The Julips are missing.

With a mint julep in one hand and a gavel in the other, Tom Scott generaled this loyal order of Southern gentlemen through December, until Law School decided to get rid of him. Then Ed Magruder became the Number I and bearer of troubles.

The customary symbol of regal power does not necessarily indicate desirable mental tranquility or in simpler words, says Ed, uneasy lies the head that wears the crown. George (or was it Stanford, no, it was George) Morse handles the position of Number II . . . George "Egghead" Crawford takes notes on everything and is the only guy in the chapter who can shave without getting lather on his cigar.

Among the "wheels" there is Hairston, who will be run out in May for putting out this catalogue, Andrew Sullivan who took the presidency of the ASB by a "nose," Ted "Vitamin Flintheart" Ford who heads the Student Welfare Committee, Shysters Roland Marble and John Webb put out the Law School Journal, "Jug" McIntyre is the leader of one of the law fraternities.

Cast of character include Dee "I've got the Goods" Hamilton who continually sings "Hey, Robert-E-Lee-Bob"; Hugh "and I Publish a Humor Magazine" Moore, quickly followed by yellow-haired shadow, George Thomas Bailey. Harvey "Duffy" Stanley sells anything including sandwiches and worn out hotel writing pens to Post Offices . . . "Deacon" DuBois has ink on his hands messing with the Mississippian and a column.

KA and Traveler banded together a few months after "The Surrendah," and Alpha Upsilon sneaked in here at the turn of the century. Not content with one flower, they have the magnolia and red rose. Colors are crimson and old gold . . . they sing "KA Rose."

Two-bits!

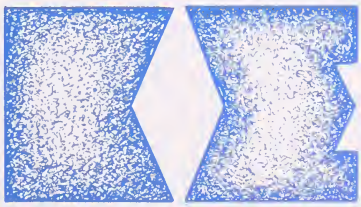

Newton and his officers abdicated at mid-year, so Kappa Sig now has Tom Watts running the show. Second in command is Charlie Payne, and Eaton Lang is secretary. Ken McCarley oversees the finances. Oh yes, Buddy McCoy keeps the house straight.

Newton is the long-suffering Mississippian editor, Hall of Fame member, and Pi Kappa Pi Prexy. Shackelford owns a sax, so the Mississippians took him in. Lloyd Bridgers is ROTC exec. officer, Pablo is ticklish, and Holloman runs on the cinders. Dean just landed ASB vice-prexy's job for next year. Charlie Wright is the quiet type, Hilmon Castle got married and no one knew it, and Kayo Dottley flexes muscles.

Kappa Sigma got its start at Virginia in the winter of '69, sent their hordes into Oxford in 1926. Colors are scarlet, green and white, and they use the lily of the valley. Somebody composed "Kappa Sigma Dream Girl", so they sing it.

Heading the cross and serpent troops is Jim Holloway, with John Laird as his Good Man Friday. Jim Brown is secretary, and Larry Smith collects the dues.

Leading the rest of the Sigma Nu pack by a nose is John Rogers, Walter Stewart of the "Mississippian", who get in column feuds. He, Andrews, and Larry are Phi Eta Sigma intellectuals—Andrews is also Pi Kappa Pi. Dampeer is Phi Chi Prexy. Holloway is ditto for Rho Chi pharmacy fraternity, and Charlie Robison is president of the Rebel Band. Elliotte sketches "Mississippian" cartoons, and Pigott acted as ASB president last summer.

Verne Carr advertises appropriately for the White Star cleaners, Hunter is a blood relation to the spotted cubes, and Willingham hates the name, "Daddy". Kirby Smith is known as "The Hat", Ballentine has hollow legs, Elliotte has an astounding vocabulary. Reeves is athletic, Walker has a harem and Little Beaver Burrow finally made active on sheer seniority.

Sigma Nu was founded by some unreconstructed Rebels in 1869, and the local lodge, Epsilon Xi took roots here in 1927. Colors are black, gold, and white, the flower is the aforesaid White Rose, and their tune is "The White Star of Sigma Nu".

Bill Lloyd heads the Pikes here, with Buck Meek as vice-president. Sammy Jennings is secretary, and Dismukes doubles as treasurer and house manager.

Tillie Lyle was big noise in the house. Some say the members couldn't sleep when he was round. Pre-med students kept the shack lively—BSC students looking for typewriters were often confronted with horrible things from the biology lab.

Their share of characters includes, "The Hat" Bledsoe, "Lover" Edwards, "Cherokee-Nose" Tate, "Whiskey" Dickson, the Niggerhead,' "Droopy' Hooper, and Dismukes the Bald. Quite an assemblage. Nig won the ASB Prexy's job this spring.

Edwards, Morris, Dickson, Gillis, Childress, Stokes and Trussell managed to do some pinning. No one ever could keep up with Curtis Alexander's pin. Now and then the Brothers played games in the living room.

Gerald Jacobs steered the Sig Ep helm until midyear when he was succeeded by the current big dog, Harold Melvin. Others on the brain trust are Jack Parker, vice president; Harlan Grafton, secretary; Charlie Adams, comptroller; and James Wentzell, who keeps the pledges in line.

Jacobs is also the Big 'Un on the Intramural Council. McBride is Vice Prexy of the Veteran's Organization, and Parker keeps minutes for the ex-GI's. Zeb Baucum and Leonard Beavers are members of Kappa Psi, Pharmacy fraternity. Billy Condon wields a neat racquet—on the tennis team, that is; when he isn't keeping the mens' dorms in an uproar.

Odom, the varsity football end, sandwich man extraordinaire, and Thespian gone wrong, is the one who keeps things rolling. Al Jolson came out of retirement when he heard what Odom was doing to his act. Buell Carty's midyear graduation left a hole in the ranks. Members are talking about a new house now, like every one else.

SPE is one of the younger nationals active on the campus, having been organized at Richmond in 1901. Mississippi Alpha planted its foundations here in 1928. They owe allegiance to the American beauty rose, to red and royal purple, and have as their pet ballad the "Sig Ep Anthem."

Charlie Marcus is the IFC shot—made the national IFC meet at New York, also a law school brain. Lapides and Gritz deserted the colors for LSU. According to Mooch, the key man, the smallest campus chapter holds the longest meeting. Rosenfield spends confused nights in the showers, and Friedman holds accounting classes in the dead of night for the underprivileged. Barr-A-2 is the second chapter room. Butch Labens is the great impersonator, and Kantor is the Don Juan.

OLE MISS "M" CLUB

The object of the M Club is to recognize athletic merit in students of Ole Miss; to foster a wholesome interest in athletics among the students; to encourage participation in Varsity sports; to promote the welfare of athletics on the campus of the University and to encourage and promote that intangible but vital element—School Spirit—among the students and alumni of Ole Miss.

THE FIRST TEAM

CHAMPIONS OF

It took the University of Mississippi fifty-five years to win it's first Football Championship, but it was worth waiting for. The 1947 team will always be known as the "Wonder Team". Not only did it win the SEC Championship, but in addition Head Coach Johnny Vaught was chosen as "Coach of the Year" in the Southeastern Conference, and left end Barney Poole and halfback Charlie Conerly made All-American.

With the best coach in the country, two of the greatest players ever to don a football uniform, and endowed with the famous Ole Miss spirit, the Red and Blue waded through a tough schedule, dropping only two heart-breakers, then going on to a victory in the Delta Bowl over Texas Christian University.

As the season opened the "Rebs" were rated by the sports-writers as probably finishing the season in a three way tie for last place. A decided under-dog in the first game against Kentucky, the Red and Blue unleashed the magnificent passing combination of "Conerly to Poole", whose feats were praised by every southern sports writer, fan, and coach, but pointedly ignored by the North. After the Kentucky game we conquered Florida in Jacksonville. As usual it rained in Memphis the following week-end and as usual Conerly and Company turned in their brilliant performance to trounce South Carolina 33 to 0 Next came the tragic Vanderbilt game where the useless error of an official robbed us of victory. The next Saturday the state of Louisiana got her first shellacking from the Rebs as Tulane bit the dust. Back to Memphis again and naturally it was raining. Ole Miss played safe and waited for the breaks, while Arkansas took risk after risk, and for once the odds failed us, with the Razor-backs playing way over their heads eking out a slim victory. Louisiana State piled up 22 first downs to our 8, but our Mississippi boys had the will to win and showed the Bayou Bengals their heels 20 to 18 in the best football game anybody ever saw. Having never beaten the University of Tennessee, naturally it was the team we were pointing for. Ole Miss turned loose everything she had, to give the Volunteers the worse defeat in their history, 43 to 13. Chattanooga never knew what hit it. The Red and Blue were victorious 52 to 0,, and Charlie Conerly set a new national completion record throwing 20 perfect strikes out of 30 tries. In order to further better relations with Mississippi State College, Coach Johnny Vaught let his charges take it easy and only played Conerly a little over half the game. It looked for a while as if even that wouldn't help, but luckily enough State scored a couple of times and the score was fairly respectable, 33 to 14.

Things looked bad for this great team on New Year's Day in Memphis as an inspired Horn Frog team rose up and scored 9 points in the first half to our none. But in a rousing fourth quarter, "Chunking Charles" found the range and it was all up with the Texans, as the game ended 13 to 9 with the best team in the South victorious.

The 1948 Ole Miss pays tribute to Coach Johnny Vaught, his assistants, the entire football squad and our two All Americans, Barney Poole and Charlie Conerly.

JOHN H. VAUGHT, SEC COACH OF THE YEAR

Head Coach Vaught came to Ole Miss last year as line menter under "Red" Drew and took over the reins when Drew moved to Alabama. Coach Johnny was a star guard at Texas Christian University being named on the All-Southwest Conference team three times and chosen All American in 1932. After college Vaught served as assistant coach at the University of North Carolina. He then joined the Navy and helped tutor the Navy teams of Corpus Christi and North Carolina Pre-Flight. This year, in his first try at the big time as a head man, he won the annual award "Best Coach of the Year in the Southeastern Conference", sponsored by the Nashville Banner.

John (Hurry) Cain, the backfield coach, came to us this year and proved to one and all that he's the best backfield mentor in the south. Cain was an All American half-back at Alabama in 1932.

Another Alabama Alumnus is James W. Whatley, line coach and head basketball tutor. Whatley was an All SEC performer in both basketball and football for the Tide.

James (Buster) Poole is Barney's brother and one of the greatest of Ole Miss flankmen. All Pro for three years with the New York Giants, Buster returned to Ole Miss this year and did a stellar job with the ends.

Thomas Swayze served as contact man and Assistant Coach of baseball.

Lester (Mike) Brumbelow is the chief scout and was a great asset to the team in this capacity. Helping Mike with the scouting is Edwin (Ed) Stone.

Wesley I. Knight is trainer and, though a Yankee, does a superb job. Knight also coaches the Track team.

C. M. (Tad) Smith is Director of Athletics and Head Baseball Coach.

John A. (Junie) Hovious and J. W. (Wobble) Davison, who are remembered as outstanding members of the teams during the "Golden Era" of 1940, '41, and '42, are Freshman and Assistant End Coaches, respectively.

GEORGE BARNEY POOLE, ALL AMERICAN END

An All American end at West Point in 1944 and 1946, Barney Poole scored again at Ole Miss with first team gradings on this season's United Press, Deke Houlgate, All-American Board, Football Coaches Association, Paramount Newsreel, The Quarterback, Pic magazine and New York Daily News elevens. Barney is a crushing defensive end, likes to block, but it was as an offensive wingman that he excelled this year. He set a new collegiate record as a pass receiver by catching 52 passes. He picked up 511 air yards in doing so and his eight touchdown passes were high for the season. With All American Charlie Conerly, Poole was the target side of the most prolific college battery in history.

CHARLIE CONERLY, ALL AMERICAN BACK

Captain "Roach" Conerly playing his last year of college football went out and set a new pass standard with 133 completions on 232 attempts for three new national records—the number of completions; a percentage mark of .573, one that checked off the nine-year old standard of .557 for backs trying 200 or more passes, and the 18 touchdown throws. Conerly averaged exactly four yards a try rushing, on 104 bids, and balanced his punting at 40.2 yards on 58 kicks. He finished second on total offense yardage with 1783 for the seventh highest rush-pass collection on the NCAB charts. Conerly also defended with consummate skill. Because he showed with no prewar background, he was almost a one-year proposition in building for all-star recognition, but was chosen on six representative All-American teams—NEA, INS, Deke Houlgate, Football Writers Association of America (Look magazine), Pic magazine, and the Chicago Tribune-New York Daily News syndicate (All Players), was named the "Player of the Year" by the Football Digest, also by Williamson Rating System, rated fourth in the country in the balloting for the Heisman Memorial Award, named "Best Back of the Year" by Red Grange, and was chosen "Most Valuable" player in the Southeastern Conference in two separate polls—Nashville Banner (coaches) and Atlanta Journal (sportswriters). Conerly was the No. 5 back in the country on the United Press and Associated Press All-American teams, was the only unanimous selection on the Associated Press All-Southeastern and made every All-Southeastern and All-Southern team chosen. He captained this year's Rebel eleven, was the spark as well as the offensive lever that led it to Ole Miss' first SEC grid championship. He scored nine touchdowns on his own to become personally responsible for 27 of the Rebs' 38 markers, was top conference scorer with 54 points. A true Southern All American.

GEORGE LAMBERT

VARSITY

EVERETTE (Hairline) HARPER, Moss Point, Miss., RIGHT END. "Hairline" was shifted to right end in September and started every game working chiefly as an offensive terminal. He caught 11 passes this year for an even 100 yards.

Before a homecoming crowd of 18,000 excited fans the Ole Miss Rebels turned back a stubborn Kentucky team to inaugurate the 1947 season with a win that astounded the whole nation.

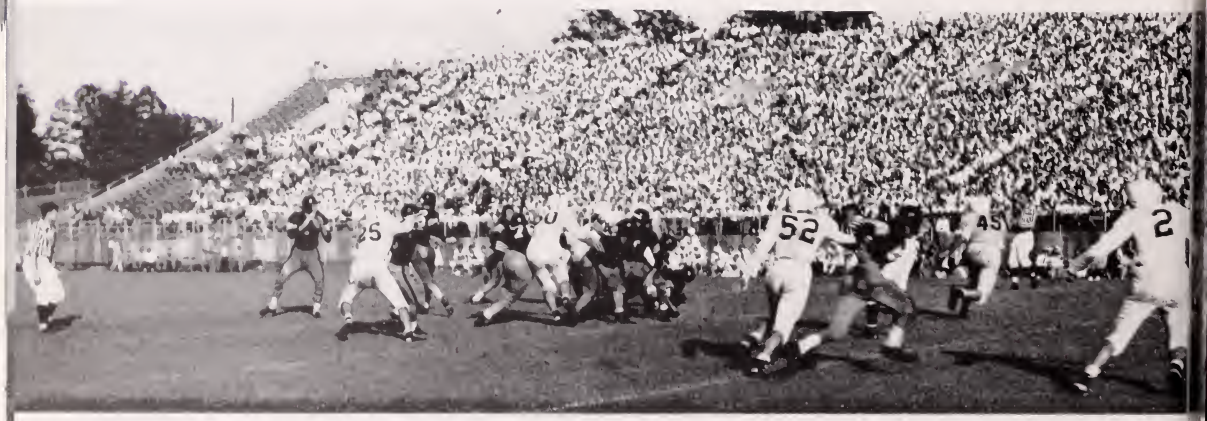

Fired to a keen explosive point with a dynamic spirit and an undaunted will to win, the Rebs took the opening kick-off and traveling on the talented right arm of one Mr. Conerly, they were never headed. Before five minutes had elapsed the "Mighty Men of Mississippi" had racked seven big points up on the scoreboard.

The men in Blue and White, taking advantage of a break or so and also of a temporary let down on the part of the Rebs, blared back in the same quarter to tie the score and lead some people to believe that they would be a definite threat, though such beliefs were only pipe dreams of the very first magnitude.

Revenge for last year's black defeat by the Cats, confidence in their ability to field one of the most feared teams in the SEC, the burning desire to win for their new and well liked head man, Johnny Vaught, and a combination known to all the football United States as Conerly to Poole, sent Ole Miss through the entire sixty minutes in the same unequalled form that sent terror to the hearts of their opponents later in the season.

Conerly tossed to All-American end Barney Poole for tally number one, and the bruising left half plunged off tackle for a yard and the final marker in the third period, Bobby Oswalt splitting the uprights with machine-like precision for both extra points. George Blanda's flip to end Wah Wah Jones in the end zone produced the only Kentucky touchdown of the afternoon, and Blanda converted.

Rebel fullback Red Jenkins took the initial kickoff deep in his own territory and ploughed out to the 19 with apparent ease. On the first play from scrimmage the same gentleman uncoiled a violent burst of speed and flashed his hips around end for 23 beautiful yards. Conerly then went to work chunkin' and chargin', and eight plays later the score was Ole Miss 6, Kentucky 0.

Midway in the third stanza, Wilson gobbled in a Blanda heave on the Rebel 36 and danced smoothly down the sidelines for 42 big yards before tripping on the Cat 22 with a first down snuggled nicely in his arms. Half a dozen plays later Ole Miss had the game sewed up and was ready to go home.

In the second game of the most successful season in Rebel history, Ole Miss met the Florida 'Gators in Jacksonville. They slugged it out toe to toe for two periods, keeping some 17,000 'Gator fans hopeful before turning on the expected heat in the second half to down the threatening Floridians 14 to 6.

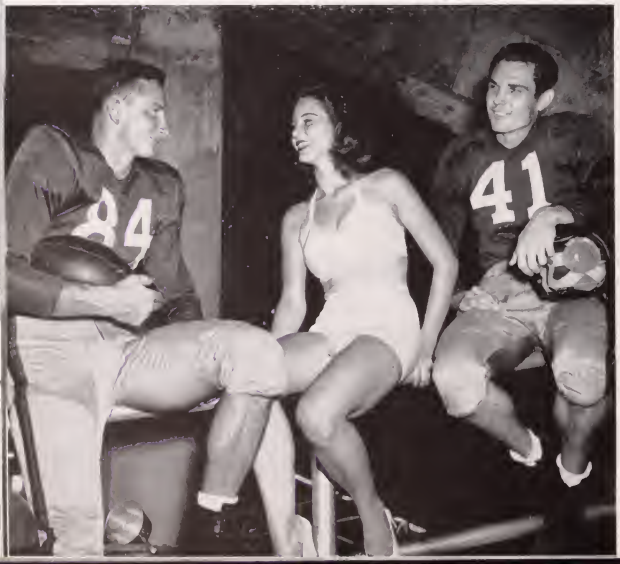

Florida was out to win the ball game all the way, showing much more spirit of competition than the Rebel victim of the previous week, but the marshlanders only had the upper hand in the second period, and they were held scoreless during that time.

The inability to climax several deep thrusts kept the Johnny Rebs scoreless in the first half, but Chunkin' Charles showed his true form in the third quarter.

The Ole Miss flash grabbed a Florida punt on the Red and Blue 34 and sped neatly through the opposition to their 38. Several Conerly pitches later found the Rebs on the enemy five, from where the Clarksdale Flash fired to Jenkins for six belated points. Bobby Oswalt came to make his conversion record for the new season three straight.

67 yards a few minutes later to a TD in nine flashy plays to ice the game for the Oxford lads. Will Glover scored standing up from the 16, and Oswalt split the uprights for the final Rebel damage.

Conerly connected on 12 of 19 heaves for 84 yards, though he had trouble finding his receivers in the first half due to the tremendously strong wind that was whipping back and forth across the field of battle. Not to be denied, however, Charles dug into the Florida turf and showed the Sunshine boys that he can run as well as he can pass, picking up a total of 65 yards on 14 charging attempts.

The play of the Ole Miss line was a thing of beauty with the possibility of tabbing an individual standout almost completely ruled out. The Barney was sure death on pass and punt defense, and the entire first string forward wall was right with him. Reb reserves took over every department in the line with such competence that the shock troops were given their first real rest in many moons.

Two reserve backs did some fancy stepping for the Rebs—Will Glover looked like a million on his 19 yard sprint for a score, and Earl "Dixie' Howell skirted the ends in true Rebel style.

DOUGLAS HAMLEY, Lake Providence, La., RIGHT TACKLE. "Doug" was presented a trophy by the Jackson TD Club for being the most improved player on the team. His team-mates voted him this honor after he gained a starting berth in the South Carolina game and played the crashing, bruising football typical of Ole Miss athletes.

In their third outing Coach Johnny Vaught's Rebels proved that rain was no handicap to the Conerly to Poole combination, much to the chagrin of the South Carolina Gamecocks.

The Rebs were keyed to unbelieveable heights against the boys from Carolina, scoring in every period but the third. Charlie Conerly started things off when he pitched to Poole from his own nine yard line on the first play of the game. Ole Miss was not halted until Conerly hit Jenkins on the ten and 'Bama sped across for the first score. Oswalt's conversion was good.

Carolina's only goal line threat ended in disaster for the Gamecocks. After a series of penalities had set the Rebels back into the shadow of their own goal posts, or what would have been the shadow had it not been raining, Conerly completed a pass to Bowen on the seventeen. Buddy fumbled when hit, and Carolina recovered.

On the first play from scrimmage, the Gamecocks completed an eight yard pass. There was a fumble on the next play and Columbus' own Jack Odom speared the ball in mid-air and pranced 87 yards for a TD and the most thrilling play of the game.

The Rebs scored once more in the first period on a pass from Conerly to Poole after Clark and Dale blocked a kick on the Carolina five. The sloppy turf stymied Oswalt's kick. In the second quarter Roach again tossed to Barney for a TD, making the score 26-0 at the half, after Oswalt's successful attempt for the point.

Ole Miss' last tally came in the final period when little Billy Mustin heaved 30 yards to Buddy Taylor in the end zone. Oswalt booted his third extra point of the day.

Charlie Conerly put on the most amazing performance ever seen at Crump Stadium. Although the rain was coming down in torrents, Mr. Football threw perfect strikes with the pigskin all afternoon. There was the unforgetable play in the second quarter when the "Roach" received the ball from center, held it in his left hand while he calmly wiped the mud off with his right, and then whipped a bullet pass to Big Barney in the end zone.

Line play by guard Bernard Blackwell and tackle Bill Erickson held the running attack of the Gamecocks well in check, and the Carolina passing attack failed miserably, for only a Conerly could rack up completions in rain like that.

The Ole Miss Rebels felt the stinging blows of ill luck, shabby pass receiving, and an expertly placed Clinard field goal, and emerged bloody but unbowed from a 10 to 6 defeat at the hands of Commodores of Vanderbilt before a sell-out throng of 22,500 at Dudley Field in Nashville.

Suffering their first setback of the season, the Rebs saw Vandy grab a 10-0 lead by the middle of the third period, and almost lose that lead in the final stanza when the Rebs unfolded a running attack that threatened to sweep the Black and Gold completely from the field.

Chunkin' Charles was definitely on with his aerials, heaving 31 bullets into ten grasping and holding arms. What thwarted the air might of the flashy left halfback was the unbelieveable inability of the Ole Miss ends and halfbacks to hold on to Mr. C's pitches. The Rebels, with all their dynamic talent and stirring will to grab a victory, were fighting there at Dudley, body and soul, but the gluepot was way back home in Oxford.

The one magnificent catch of the day by Red and Blue flankmen to apparently add a fairy tale finish to a Rebel triumph was nullified quite promptly by the man with the little book, and Ole Miss fell short of a much deserved victory by the slim margin of five points. Late in the last quarter "Roach" faded back and hurled a terrific bullet pass to big Barnabus. Poole and a Vandy back went up together, with the movies showing that both touched the ball, but neither could catch it. But Joe Johnson lurking five yards farther down the field gathered it in and went all the way. The referee, however, ruled that the score was no good, for the Commodore didn't touch the ball. Fate had struck a fearful lash in the Reb direction, and the clock ran out seconds later with Vanderbilt in possession.

The uncanny running and twisting of Will Glover and Jerry Tiblier put Ole Miss in the scoring game in the last period.

Statistically, Ole Miss was out in front in every department. Conerly's punting average of 48.0 yards was one of the outstanding feats of the day, and Vandy didn't forget the vicious line play of guards, Jimmy Crawford and Bernard Blackwell, nor the ground gaining of Wilson, Glover and Tiblier.

VARSITY

BERNARD BLACKWELL, Saucier, Miss., LEFT GUARD. Blackwell this season has no superiors at guard play in the conference, staging some maneuvers that few guards in the league would even attempt. JAMES AUGUST CRAWFORD, Memphis, Tenn., RIGHT GUARD. Crawford was truly an all-star making one All-Southeastern club and earning considerable recognition elsewhere. He was described as a guard who is the "Fireplug type, very difficult to move; quick, rarely out of position and poison to trap; ideal kind of guard, blocked with the force of a boulder rolling downhill."

With Captain Charlie Conerly playing the role of a true All-American in one of the most colorful games of his star studded career, the Ole Miss Rebels stomped, snorted, and slapped down a hard fighting Tulane Green Wave 27 to 14 before some 35,000 fans in the Sugar Bowl Stadium in New Orleans.

Conerly's every move was faultless as he found three receivers for touchdown passes and plunged across to pay dirt himself, for the other Rebel score. The great Ole Miss halfback pitched 11 times for 9 Bullseyes and 103 yards, toted the piaskin personally for 55 of the Rebels' 149 yards, and punted magnificently seven times for a 43.4 average to put on one of the most sparkling one man exhibitions in the history of New Orleans football.

The "Roach" heaved to his All-American mate Barney Poole for the first and third Red and Blue six pointers, and found Joe Johnson all alone in the end zone for the final Rebel tally. Conerly's quick kicks kept the Wave on the run during the entire contest and led directly to the first Ole Miss touchtown.

Early in the fray Conerly quick kicked to the Tulane 26, and Bernard Blackwell pounced on a Wave fumble on the next play to put the Rebs in scoring position.

In the second period, Jimmy Crawford tore through the Greenie forward wall and blocked a Tulane punt to set up the second score.

Ole Miss led at the half 13 to 0.

With the second half only a few minutes old, Earl Howell turned the longest Ole Miss ground play from scrimmage of the game, with a 41 yard romp around his right end to the Tulane eight. A 15 yard penalty and 3 unsuccessful line plays found the Rebs back to the 25 on 4th down, but "Roach" spotted Poole for the third Reb score with the smoothness of a master.

At this point Henry Frnka's charges filled the air with long passes and when the smoke had cleared, Tulane had 13 points. They were on their way toward a third marker when Rebel half Jerry Tiblier rudely intercepted a toss on the Ole Miss 18. Several plays later found Ole Miss knocking at the Greenie door. Again the Rebs found themselves a trifle far out with a fourth down on their hands. Conerly solved this with one of the most deceptive and neatly executed plays we've ever seen. He faked the ball off three times, then feinted to his left with a pass and finally lobbed one through the middle to Johnson for the score.

Charlie Conerly passed magnificently through the mud, slop, and rain of Crump Stadium in Memphis, but his tosses were not enough to pull the Rebels away from 19-14 defeat at the hands of an alert Arkansas eleven before 28,000 shouting onlookers.

The tilt was a classic in talent and thrills from start to finish. Conerly and the mud spelled the difference between the two elevens. Chunkin' Charles doing his spelling for the Red and Blue, and the mud serving to help the Razor-backs. The All-American from Clarksdale fired two touchdown passes, completed 14 out of 23 for 138 yards, ran the ball ten times for a total of 42 yards, and booted the saturated oval on ten different occasions for a 39.4 yard average.

Arkansas played heads up ball the whole afternoon, and it was evident that the Porkers were up for this one, playing over their heads. It might have been that the Vought charges were looking forward to the LSU game a week later.

With 45 seconds remaining in the first half, Ole Miss found herself on the Porker 17 yard line, fourth down and trailing in the game by six points. Conerly took the soaked leather for a last fling, faded calmly and confidently, spotted All-American Barney Poole cruising TDward on the Porker four, and fired a six pointer to the faultless end who sloshed across standing up. Bobby Oswalt added the point to put Ole Miss out in front.

A few plays after the second half began, Arkansas had scored again on a pass play. So Conerly and Company went to work with successful throws to Dottley, Galey, Tiblier, and Howell. Losing the ball, Conerly started all over again on the Porker 42. "Roach" crashed the line for 11, Howell got two at tackle, then the incomparable Conerly hit Howell on a beautiful 27 yard shot for a touchdown. Oswalt's kick was good.

Two plays later Arkansas had scored by virtue of two remarkable plays by Clyde Scott.

Along with Conerly-Howell, Bowen, and Buchanan highlighted the action in the Ole Miss backfield while banners for the gallant and muddy struggle in the forward wall go to Bernard Blackwell, Jimmy Clark, Barney Poole, and Dave Bridgers. It was a heart-breaking game but Rebel fans got a taste of what the Razor-backs went through last year.

FARLEY SALMON, Clarksdale, Miss., RIGHT HALFBACK. The smallest man on the Rebel team, Salmon was a superb performer the entire season. He was sure death to the opposing teams on pass defense, and came up fast to dump men 40 and 50 Lbs. heavier. Farley rose to great heights as a ball carrier in the Delta Bowl game when he averaged nearly nine yards a try rushing.

A murderous blast of gridiron dynamite, loaded to capacity with All-American powder and heroically ignited by Charles "Roach" Conerly, rocked Tiger Stadium from goal to goal in Baton Rouge, showing, when the smoke had floated skyward, that the rampaging Ole Miss Rebels had chewed and digested the favored Bayou Bengal of LSU for a 20 to 18 SEC victory before a screaming crowd of 46,000 fans.

Conerly conducted and led the Rebel parade which produced one of the most spectacular feats of football ever to be displayed by an Ole Miss gridder. The All-American tailback passed, ran, and kicked his way before the eyes of every football minded citizen in the nation, as he became the first player in the history of football ever to score three times in one 60 minute game against LSU. Bobby Oswalt's faultless kicking gave the Rebs their fourth conference win against one defeat.

Statistically the Rebels were unbelieveably the underdog. LSU piled up 22 first downs to only nine for Johnny Vaught's men; the Tigers amassed a total of 199 yards rushing, and 130 yards passing, to 80 ground yards and 121 aerial yards for Ole Miss; but the difference came in the fact that 160 of the Rebs total 201 offensive yards were claimed by a certain talent laden lad called Roach Conerly. Conerly flipped 19 passes, 12 of them complete for 121 yards, and "Roach" carried the ball 16 times for a net total of 39 yards on the turf.

ford men. In the second quarter, however, Conerly splattered left guard for a marker, and we went ahead 7 to 6. Seconds later Bobby Wilson grabbed a Tittle pass and dashed hastily to the Bengal 11 yard line. Conerly entered the game, shot a five yard bullet to Joe Johnson, faked a pass and pounded over for another score. In the third quarter, Collins of LSU skirted our right end to make the score 13 to 12 in favor of Ole Miss.

Midway in the fourth quarter, Ole Miss worked the ball down to the Bengal 30 on running plays by Glover and passes by "Roach." Then the stage was set for the most dazzling run of the game. Chunkin' Charles faked a hand-off beautifully, faded for a pass, couldn't find a receiver and then slithered through the middle of the line for 26 Yds. and a TD. LSU scored again but couldn't catch the Rebs.

Ole Miss' All-American Charlie Conerly spearheaded a merciless touchdown onslaught against Tennessee in Memphi's Crump Stadium to smash the floundering Vols 43 to 13 before an amazingly clear day crowd of 28,000.

It was the first time in history that Ole Miss has been able to whip a University of Tennessee team. Revenge was sweet, for every Rebel fan remembers the humiliation suffered from the great Volunteer teams from the past. But this 43 to 13 walloping even erased the 1938 defeat and the lucky win of last year by the Vols. Every man, woman, and child in the State of Mississippi vowed to get Tennessee after last years' loss. This was the game the boys were pointing for all year. Johnny Vaught and his coaches hadn't taken pity on the helpless Vols the score might have been 75 instead of 43.

By this game everybody was expecting the fabulous Conerly to have a bad day. No man could keep up the pace that this slim boy from Clarksdale had been setting. Gen. Bob Neyland, rated as one of the greatest coaches of all time, planned for weeks on stopping Charles, and he tried, every boy on the field for the Vols tried. But that sunny Saturday afternoon in Memphis was Charles' day.

He was magnificent, he was incomparable, he was a one man show the equal of which is seldom seen in big time football. The terrific halfback heaved a barrage of 34 aerials, 19 of them scoring hits for a total of 246 yards, and his great clutch running kept the Vols guessing all afternoon. After the game was over, Gen. Bob mopped his brow and said "Charley Conerly is the best football player I've ever seen". This coming from Bob Neyland, the man who made Cafego, Dickens, Butler and a dozen other All-Americans, was indeed a tribute.

Ole Miss started rolling in the first period with "Roach" flipping a short pass to Barney, Statue of Liberty to Tiblier, and a pass to Poole to the two yard line. Conerly then took over and Oswalt converted. Barney Poole blocked a punt for two points and a few minutes later Mr. C. made his second marker of the day.

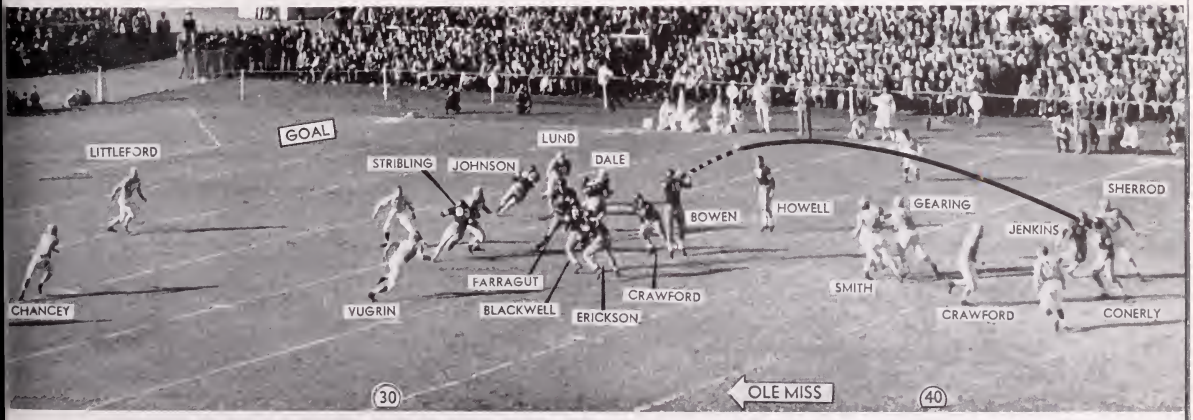

Poole made a beautiful diving catch in the third period for another score and Earl Howell made a brilliant running catch of another "Roach" aerial. The final tally came on a short pass to buddy Bowen over center.

EULAS STAMPS JENKINS, Vernon, Ala., RIGHT HALFBACK. Jenkins was a very effective runner, started fast and really moved in an open field, turned out to be one of the Rebel's key backs. Jenk could always get that extra yard when it was needed. He backed up the line with the great zeal and fervor, meeting his man in the hole before he got a chance to get started.

The only breather on the Rebel schedule was the game with the Chattanooga Moccasins. While entertaining the Smoky Mountain boys in Hemingway stadium the locales had a field day. Although coming to Oxford with a fair record, holding teams like State, Tenn., and North Carolina State to low scores, the Moccassins never had a chance against the Colonels' men. Ten thousand people showed up clamoring for Charlie Conerly to break the national pass completion record, and far be it from Charles to disappoint his fans.

The scoring started out with a bang with Conerly completing six straight passes for the first tally. Seconds later the flashy halfback toured 59 yards through eleven Moccasins for the second Ole Miss score. Bobby Wilson then latched on to a Chattanooga pass on his own 44 and danced cagily for the score.

Roach came back for another shot at the complete record, and tied it with a scoring heave to Barney. After six more successful throws, Conerly watched Dee Penny streak over for the 33rd point, and then Ole Miss' wonder boy retired for the day.

Joe Johnson covered Oswalt's kickoff in the end zone for the sixth Reb TD, and Oswalt's fourth extra point gave Ole Miss a 40 to 0 lead at the half.

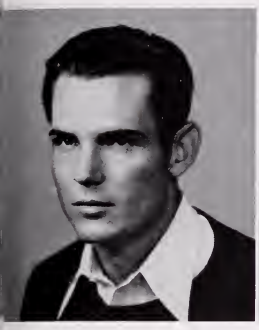

"Wild Will" Glover, Vaught's speediest tailback, nestled a Moccasin punt in his powerful arms on the Rebel 20, cut sharply for the west sidelines, and scampered untouched for 80 yards and his share of the tremendous score.

The last period was scoreless with the Ole Miss third and fourth teams taking over. With some seven minutes of play remaining Barney Poole came in to put in his bid for record breaking. For the whole day he gathered in 13 passes to put on an amazing show.

In setting the new collegiate passing record of the greatest number of completions in a single season, Roach tossed 32 times for 20 perfect ones and 159 yards, two of the 20 going over for six pointers. As a sideline, the flashy halfback toured 59 yards through eleven Moccasins for the second Ole Miss score. Barney Poole, not to be, denied came within 2 catches of tying the completion record.

In this final encounter with the farmers, mechanics, and what-nots—in other words, toothless Bulldogs of Mississippi State—the much heralded duel between Ole Miss's incomparable Charles "Roach" Conerly and the important Shorty McWilliams failed to materialize. Even partisian State fans will admit that the Red and Blue Mr. Conerly is in a class by himself.

Before a sell-out crowd of some 26,000 rabid citizens of the great Magnolia state of Mississippi, the touch down laden Ole Miss Rebels slashed savagedly through an out-clashed and out-fought State team.

For a little while State made it fairly interesting, but midway in the first period "Tiger" Jack Odom set up the initial Ole Miss TD when he enveloped a Harper Davis fumble on the Farmer 12. Three running plays and a pass later, the Rebels found themselves needing yards to score. State's Matulich booted out to the Red and Blue 40. Conerly then unwound the most fabulous pitching arm in football history, hurling four strikes—two of them to All-American Poole—to put the ball on the three yard line. Buddy Bowen and the Ole Miss line literally lifted the entire State line off their feet and back over their goal line on a quarter back sneak for our first six points. Bobby Oswald added insult to injury by splitting the uprights with his kick.

Joe Johnson just missed it

One of the few bad kicks in the "Roach's" career gave the Maroons their only earned tally. Winged-footed Harper Davis used his arm instead of his feet, for a change, passing for a first down on the 14. The great McWilliams was shot into the game by Coach "Smiley" McKeen, and, using his head as a battering ram, bulled down to the 1 in three tries. A little worse for wear, "Shorty" left the game, and "Eagle" Matulich lunged over the middle for the score. "Rookie" Max Stainbrook made the extra point good.

Conerly took the kick-off on the Reb 11, palmed the ball off to Will Glover who pranced to the mid field stripe. On the next play, the immortal Mr. "C" took the ball from center, stepped back and surveyed the field with the calmness and calculation of a master. Unleashing his strong right arm, he fired the ball far away down the field into the iron paws of slim Joe Johnson, who took it on the dead run for the score that broke the Farmer's backs.

Coach Johnny Vaught led his now famous charges to the oft trodden beach-head in Memphis known as Crump Stadium, and the first Delta Bowl Game. Texas Christian University, Vaught's alma mater, was the victim on this bitterly cold New Year's Day. Despite the usual bad weather, over 28,000 fans crammed the stadium to capacity, to see the valiant Ole Miss team come from behind in the fourth quarter to score two lightning blows and wipe out a 9 to 0 lead by the Fort Worth team.

For three quarters one word was being uttered through chilled, numb lips, "Upset!"—the word that struck fear to the hearts of every loyal Mississippi fan.

60 yards on Conerly's passing and were stopped by an alert Horned Frog interception.

So, TCU, fighting into the wind that blew from their plains, wheeled up to the 11 on the arms and legs of two very fine halfbacks, Lindy Berry and Pete Stout, took charge with two counters in the second quarter and kept Ole Miss very busy indeed defending their goal. The Frogs threw up a seven man line, surrounded Conerly with brawny arms and harrassed the passingest man of all as he hadn't been troubled during the 1947 season.

Then things changed in a rapid, tingling moment—a Red and Blue moment. Ole Miss got the ball on their own twenty with time late in the third quarter and the emergency was pressing. In nine plays they went all the way.

The Rebs had the wind with them and they were ready. Quarterback Bowen used his plays as a fencing master would use his foil, striking death blows to the staggering Horned Frogs. He shook little Farley Salmon loose off tackle for two of the prettiest runs of the game. Red Jenkins hit the line, and then Jack Stibling gained valuable ground on an "end around". Time was then called and "Mr. Football" was thrown into the breach. Two passes to Joe Johnson and we had our first score. A few minutes later our second score was set up by a pass from Conerly to Johnson and then the game winning pass to "Dixie" Howell. Howell took "Roache's" pass on the 15 and literally bulled his way over three TCU defenders to give the Ole Miss Rebels their first Bowl victory in history.

Thus ended the Fabulous Saga of the Mighty Men of Mississippi.

BASKETBALL

The Ole Miss basketball team, under the guidance of Coach Jim Whatley, had a pretty fair season. With most of the regulars back from the 1947 team they managed to finish the schedule with a .500 average.

Playing exceptional ball on their home court the Rebels whipped such strong teams as LSU, Vanderbilt, State and nearly upset the highly touted Tulane Green Wave. Alabama also proved to be one of our victims on the home court.

On the road the team just couldn't seem to get going losing tough decisions to Georgia, Alabama, Auburn, Tulane and Okla. A. and M.

Jack Marshall, Harold Kelly and Maxie McMullan proved to be the big guns for Ole Miss as far as scoring was concerned. Marshall finished the season with a game average of 12.6 pts. and both Kelly and McMullan had around 10 points.

B A S E B A L L

Coach Tad Smith's 1947 Baseball team, Paced by a couple of veteran pitchers, had a very successful season with a record of 10 victories and 6 defeats.

Breaking even in the conference games, the Rebels greatest nemisis proved to be the weather. One whole road trip down to Baton Rouge and New Orleans was rained out. The boys just got a free ride, not even being able to take the field against Tulane or LSU. In the other Conference games we took the Alabama Nine to the cleaners here, but the tables were turned when we journeyed over to the Capstone City.

In the first tilt with the Auburn Tigers the Rebs lost out in a hard fought contest, 6 to 4. Big Ray Poole, superb Rebel righthander held the Auburn boys helpless in the second tilt, white-washing them 4 to 0.

In our only game with The State Cowhands here on the campus we rode them out of the park with a 4 to 3 count. Rain took over the second day and in a return series down at the Barns we split two hard fought games with them.

Ole Miss fared remarkebly well in non-conference games winning 6 and losing only 2. Bradley Tech of Peoria, Ill. visited the campus for our first home game and took us to the cleaners, 11 to 1. The Clarksdale team from the Cotton States League was beaten 6 to 4, but came back later to take a 10 to 1 decision. Western Ill. Teachers were defeated 6 to 2, and Lambuth College of Tenn. took twin drubbings by 20 to 0 counts. In an interstate series with Millsaps, the boys from Jackson were beaten both games.

Philip Poole and Russell Reid handled the catching job for the Rebels very competently. The mound Corps were Ray Woodward, Ray Poole, Toby Majure, and Tommy Thorpe. Woodard and Poole had a very good record, with both of them moving into the Southern Association this summer.

Johnny Bruce fielded flawlessly at First Base and W. G. Mize was a second sacker of outstanding ability. At Short little Dick McCool sparked the infield with his pepper and fight. Charles Conerly swapped his football cleats for spikes and took over the third base slot. Versatile Ray Poole covered left field when not pitching, and Thibault and Conerly alternated in center field. Probably the most promising player on the team was slim Bobby Wilson who fielded brilliantly in right field and was a fence buster at the plate.

T R A C K

Under the Tutorship of King Ganner, ex-Univ. of Alabama cinder great, the Ole Miss track team took their opening meet from Southwestern by a score of 76 to 50. The next two contests were with Alabama and the Crimson Tide edged us out in both meets. We pulled down our first and only SEC victory the next weekend against Vanderbilt, 76 to 41. We entertained the powerful State outfit the following Saturday and went down to defeat. Only two Rebelmen placed in the SEC meet at Birmingham; Faggard in the low Hurdles, and Fields in the shot put.

Lettermen were: Sprints; Alton Joseph and Bitsy Hunter. 440; Bob Kell. Hurdles; Cooter Faggard and Joe Johnson. Milers; Joe Walker. Paul Vault; Steve Stringfellow. High Jump; Hairline Harper. Broadjump; Bitsy Hunter and Hairline Harper. Field Events; Jimmy Fields, Puny Mann and Doug Hamley.

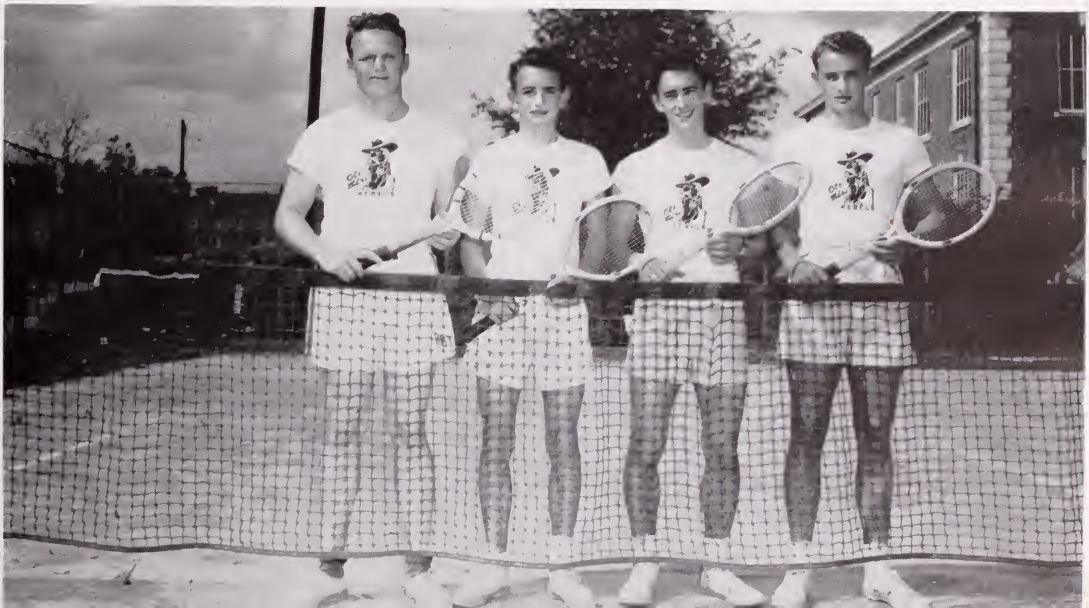

TENNIS AND GOLF

Three wins, a draw and a loss marked play for Ole Miss tennis team last spring. Progress was made at the expense of Southwestern in a pair of 7-0 decisions, and Millaps in a 6-1 win. State was tied 4-4 here and won over the Ole Miss team at Starkville 5-3.

Unbeaten, and with a Johnny Reb in the finals of the annual Southern Intercollegiate tournament, Ole Miss had its best golf campaign in history last spring with Al Stone and John MacMurry pacing a panel of seven straight victories.

Albert Stone was the sensation of the Southern Tourney at Athens with the best match medal of the tourney, 11 under par for 38 holes in his first three duels.

The team defeated Alabama twice, Southwestern twice, Springhill College of Mobile and also took two from Millsaps.

Under the excellent direction of Paul Page the band has again this year proved a worthy addition to the school. Colorful, new uniforms added much to their appearance and served to emphasize their title as "The Show Band of the South". During the half-time, of the year's football game, they provided interesting, amusing, and colorful entertainment.

Membership in the band is open to those men and women attending the University who can qualify. Since no monetary compensation is involved it is composed mostly of people who enjoy playing and who like music. Now more progress is being made in concert work to round out a full year.

Rain or shine, victory or defeat, on home field or visiting, these seven cheerleaders have helped carry the fighting Rebel spirit wherever the team played. Always encouraging the rooters and the team when the going was tough—always leading the cheers when victorious—always keeping up "the old pep", it may be truthfully said that seldom has Ole Miss seen such hard-working cheerleaders, loyal supporters or more able couriers of good will than head cheerleader Bill Smith, Emmagene Hardy, Helen Henry, Nina Nosser, Lois Pegrim, Buddy Shaw, and Lauch Magruder.

To the CHEERLEADERS

The Women's Athletic Association was founded on the campus of the University of Mississippi in 1926; the constitution adopted in 1937. The cardinal purpose of this organization is to offer to every woman in the University the opportunity for participation in a varied program of activities under healthful and pleasant conditions, and a program of activities that can be used in leisure time in after-college years.

CARDINAL

The Cardinal Club is an organization composed of sophomores with the exception of the President, a junior, who is elected from the club of the previous year. Of its seventeen members, one man is chosen from each of the social fraternities and three from the student body at large. It was organized in 1927 for the purpose of entertaining and assisting members of visiting athletic teams. It functions on such occasions as High School Day, Homecoming, M Day, and at all athletic contests on the campus.

Twenty years after the University was founded, the Ole Miss Y. M. C. A. was organized—in 1868.

The Reverend Henry Miller, Presbyterian ministerial student, Pontotoc, represented the Ole Miss "Y" at the first student conference at Louisville, Kentucky, in 1877.

In 1882 came the first coeds to the University, and 17 years later—in 1899—the Y. W. C. A. was organized.

The Y's first General Secretary, Mr. Arthur Brown, served from 1906 until his death in 1908. His successors have been Earl Randall Hibbard, C. H. Dutsch, Roy John,

The Reverend Wiley H. Critz is now General Secretary of the Ole Miss Christian Associations, and Miss Lynda Ramey serves as Program Secretary.

The greatest contribution of the "Y" at Ole Miss—as at other colleges and universities—has been the enrichment of the minds and spirits of students who later became leaders in the social, political and religious movements of their communities, states, and the nation.

THE WESLEY FOUNDATION

First Row: Billy K. Chapman, Ernest Graves, John Price, Virginia Tansil. Second Row: Elsie Varner, Ygondina Walker, Joseph Wroten.

The Wesley Foundation is the Methodist Church at work on the campus of State institutions of higher learning, seeking to provide for the spiritual, moral, and social needs of its youth who are resident there. As an aspect of the Methodist Student Movement it functions through student officers and committees and strives for the widest possible participation on the part of its constituency in an activities program centered at the local church, in this case, the Oxford-University Methodist Church. The employer director of Wesley Foundation at Ole Miss is provided through the cooperation of the North Mississippi and the Mississippi Annual Conferences of the Church.

The Newman Club is a Catholic organization dedicated to the spiritual betterment of its members, Catholic fellowship and the promotion of Catholic ideals of morals and citizenship on the campus of the University of Mississippi.

1947 marked the first year that the Gulf States Province of the Newman Club Federation held it's convention at Ole Miss. Fifteen Colleges and Universities from Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi and Tennessee sent delegates to this, the 15th Annual Province Convention. Gregory Kergosien, of the Ole Miss Chapter, was elected the Province Chairman for 1947-48.

First Row: Robert Bledsoe, Overton A. Currie, Huntington Howell, Claude M. McBryde. Second Row: Jack S. Parker, Basil Red, Tom Scott, William Winter.

The Ole Miss Veterans Organization was founded in May, 1944. It is the official spokesman for all veterans at the University. The Veterans Collegiate Association unites the veterans of World War II for the promotion of fellowship, scholarship, student leadership, and to sponsor and promote any activity which is for the betterment and general welfare of the Veterans Organization. Any man or woman is eligible for membership who is a student in the University of Mississippi, or a faculty member thereof who has served in one of the armed forces of the United States, or of its possessions, and who has received an honorable discharge therefrom or has the status of inactive duty. There are 530 active members of the organization this year.

Presenting the

OLE MISS ADVERTISERS

THE UNIVERSITY OF MISSISSIPPI

1848 • 1948

The University is composed of the following divisions: the College of Liberal Arts, the Schools of Law, Engineering, Education, Medicine, Pharmacy, Commerce and Business Administration, the Graduate School, and University Extension.

Splendid facilities for general and specialized education are provided by the College of Liberal Arts and the Professional Schools.

SUMMER SESSION, 1948

First Six Weeks Term . . . . . June 1-July 10
Second Six Weeks Term . . . . . July 12-Aug.20

Students attending both terms will be able to earn twelve semester hours. Courses will be offered in the College of Liberal Arts, the Graduate School, and in the Schools of Law, Commerce and Business Administration, Medicine, Engineering, Pharmacy, and Education. Recreation—Excellent athletic and recreational facilities insure ample opportunities for exercise and relaxation. An excellent swimming pool, a superb golf course, numerous tennis courts, and many indoor games provide attractions for everyone.

Write to the Director of the Summer Session, University, Mississippi, for the Summer Session Bulletin.

THE FALL SESSION BEGINS ON MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 1948

These men and women, alumni of the University of Mississippi, join with the staff of the 1948 OLE MISS in anticipating an even greater OLE MISS during our next century of advancement.

For their contribution toward the success of the 1948 OLE MISS, we of the staff wish to say a hearty "Thank you."

10 Years ago these would have been

Funeral Flowers

This man is on the Road to Recovery. He has many fine, productive years ahead of him. Ten years ago, he wouldn't have had a chance. But now . . . . .

Now, we have the sulfa drugs, penicillin, streptomycin and other wonder-working drugs unknown a decade ago. We have new, improved techniques in surgery; far more effective methods of treating wounds and burns.

And there is more—much more—to come. For Science journeys an endless, ageless course, wresting its grudging victories from the ills that beset mankind. Be alert, then, to take full advantage of the aids that are available in this advancing age. They were created to give you ease; to strengthen your body and lengthen your life.

Consult your Physician

To get well—and to keep well—is a common obligation. Consult your Physician. Heed his experienced counsel. And, we hope you will bring his prescriptions here for careful compounding by our skilled pharmacists.

GOOD FOOD SERVED WELL

OXFORD, MISS. J. AUBREY SEAY

Many years of practical experience, the finest of photographic materials, painstaking care, and a sincere desire to make the "48" OLE MISS portray an interest and an artistry unsurpassed have been important factors in our efforts to portray for you Ole Miss and its students at their best.

It is our hope that this volume of the OLE MISS will in no small measure merit your commendation because of our thoughtful and careful attention to every photographic detail in the composition of this book.

Working with the staff and with the students on this important undertaking has for us been a genuine pleasure.
